GREY DE RUTHYN, BARON. RAWDON GEORGE GREY Clifton, 24th Bn. (Eng.), Hereditary Bearer of the Golden Spur at Coronations: son of Aug. Wykeham Clifton, Esq., and Bnss. Foster, Esq., of Windsor. Seat, Warton Hall, Lytham, Lancs.

CREATION. Bn. Grey de Ruthyn, Eng. 1324 by writ (see "Hastings, Marquessate," close of note).—The 1st Bn. by writ was Roger de Grey, who according to 'Nicolas,' was son of the 3rd feudal Bn. Grey of Codnor (a line abeyant from 1496); but 'Burke' gives him as 2nd son of the 2nd Bn. Grey de Wilton (this line persisting till attainted in 1603 and eventually revived 1801 on the creation of the Wilton Earldom). The 4th to the 11th Bns. Grey de Ruthyn were also Earls of Kent, but this title passed to a cousin, one of whose descendants was made Marq. and Duke of Kent; but upon his death in 1740 all three titles expired, and the next appearance of the Dukedom was on its bestowal in 1799 on the father of our late Queen. Then we find the 17th Bn. Grey de Ruthyn created in 1717 Earl of Sussex, but that title lasted only to the 3rd Earl and 19th Bn. The Bnss. 21st in line married the 2nd Marq. of Hastings, their elder son succeeding to that title but dying before his mother; the 2nd son became 4th Marq. and 22nd Bn., but died without issue, the Marquessate expiring and the Bny. going into abeyance between his sisters.

Prolocutor of Lower House of Convocation, Canterbury, many years Rect. of Old Alresford and Rur. Dean; son of Bp. Sumner (of Winchester), b. 1824, mar. 1848, cons. 1888, tendered his resignation 1894, but by desire of his superior he has retained his post, having the Bp. of Southampton as a brother Suffragan. Res., The Close, Winchester.

Creations. Bn. of Guilford, Eng. 1683; E. of Guilford, Gt. Br. 1752. "Lord North" is used as the courtesy-title of an eld. son, but the present Bn. North protests against the confusion caused by continuance of the usage.—Sir Francis North (Kt.), 2nd son of 4th Bn. North, a distinguished lawyer who had been Attorney-General and Lord Chief Justice of Common Pleas, was appointed Lord Keeper of the Great Seal and granted the Barony of Guilford. The 3rd Bn. succeeded as 7th Bn. North and was elevated to the Earldom. On the death of the 3rd Earl in 1802 the North Barony passed into abeyance between daughters until liberated as a distinct Peerage in 1841; the Guilford titles went to a brother.

Hamilton, a Lord of Session (as Lord Drumcairn), and afterwards Secretary of State, was successively awarded these two Peerages, the Earldom at first under the title of Melrose, but this was changed to Haddington by a new patent in 1627, retaining the original precedence. The 2nd Earl, who took the side of the Covenanters against the tyranny of King Charles and Laud, was in 1640 blown up in his castle by the treacherous connivance of one or more of those within. The family name is variable (see remarks above and examples below, from which latter it appears that the addition of Arden is restricted to the line of succession).

HAMILTON and BRANDON, Duke of. Alfred Douglas Douglas-Hamilton, 13th D. of Hamilton (Scot.), sits as 10th D. of Brandon (Gt. Br.), D. of Châtelhérault (France—see that heading); Premier Peer in the Scottish Peerage and Head of the House of Douglas, Hered. Keeper of Holyrood House, a D.L. for Lanarksh., Hon. Col. 2nd Vol. Batt. Cameronians (Scottish Rifles), formerly Lieut. R.N.: 4th cousin of 12th D. and son of Chas. Henry Douglas-Hamilton (a descendant of the 4th D. through his 3rd son, Lord Anne, named after Qn. Anne, who was his godmother); b. March 6, 1862; suc. 1895 (C.); mar. 1901 Nina Mary Benita, dau. of Maj. Robt. Poore. Seat, Hamilton Palace, Lanarksh.

Creations. Scot.: E. of Angus, 1389; Ld. Hamilton, 1445; M. of Douglas and Ld. Abernethy and Jedburgh Forest, 1633; D. of Hamilton, M. of Clydesdale, E. of Arran, Lanark (orig. 1639), and Cambridge (as below), and Ld. Aven (orig. Avon), Polmont, Machanshire, and Innerdale, 1643; E. of Selkirk and Bn. Daer and Shortcleuch, 1646 (claimed titles). Gt. Br.: D. of Brandon and Bn. Dutton, 1711. France: D. of Châtelhérault, 1864 (see that article).—The 1st Earl of Angus was an illegitimate son of the 1st Earl of Douglas by Margaret, Ctss. of Angus (the title apparently having been conferred upon her in her own right)—a line extinct with the 9th Earl in 1488; the 2nd Earl figured as one of the heroes of "Chevy Chace" (the Battle of Otterbourn, 1388), in which himself, though victor, was slain, whilst on the other side "Hotspur" and another son of "the stout Earl of Northumberland" were taken prisoners. The 11th Earl of Angus was by Charles I. created Marq. of Douglas (the 3rd Marq., who died without issue, being made Duke of Douglas), the eldest son by his 2nd marriage obtaining the Earldom of Selkirk and afterwards marrying Ann, Duchess of Hamilton in her own right, who thus eventually brought about the transfer of that Peerage from the Abercorn line. This dignity was first awarded (1643) to the 3rd Marq. of Hamilton, who from his father had inherited the English Peerages of the Cambridge Earldom and Emerdale Barony. These however (now long extinct as English titles) were doubled to him in his Scottish honours, which stood—Duke of Hamilton, Marq. of Clydesdale, Earl of Arran and Cambridge, Ld. Hamilton, Abernethy, and Jedburgh Forest, and Ld. Avon (afterwards Aven) and Innerdale (corrupted from Emnerdale, in Cumberland). Leaving no male issue, he was in the first place succeeded by his brother, who had himself, in 1639, been raised to the Scottish Peerage as Earl of Lanark and Ld. Machanshire and Polmont. This 2nd Duke, however, fell at the Battle of Worcester (1651), leaving no male issue, so that his English titles expired, whilst the Dukedom with its accessories, by a second proviso in the patent, went now to his niece, the above Ann, daughter of the 1st Duke. Her husband also was created Duke of Hamilton, but for life only; whilst, as she herself not long after marriage surrendered her own honours, they became temporarily extinct in 1694. Their eldest son, however, in 1698, had the titles of 1643, together with his great uncle's Earldom of Lanark &c., revived in his favour by a new patent but with the original precedence, so that they ran—Duke of Hamilton, Marq. of Clydesdale, Earl of Arran, Lanark, and Cambridge, Ld. Hamilton, Abernethy, and Jedburgh Forest, and Ld. Aven, Polmont, Machanshire, and Innerdale (all of Scotland). He did not however obtain the Selkirk Earldom with its accompanying Baronies, which had now, by special proviso, to be transferred to a younger brother; the original holder had resigned the titles to the Crown, and they had been re-conferred upon a 2nd son—hence the doubt as to whether any Duke of Hamilton can hold these titles. The Arran Earldom had been originally created in 1503, when it was awarded to the 2nd Ld. Hamilton, whose father, the 1st Ld., had previously been 6th Ld. of Cadzow (a Scottish territorial title starting about 1294 and passing from sight on the creation in 1445 of the Hamilton Lordship). The 3rd Earl of Arran (see "Abercorn") became insane, so that the title was now newly created in the patent of 1698 to the 4th Duke. This Duke was also the recipient of the later British honours. He fought a duel in Hyde Park with Ld. Mohun, and slew his antagonist, but was immediately slain himself by a shot from the other's second, Gen. Macartney, who was found guilty of manslaughter. It will be observed that though the Duke of Abercorn is the recognised head of the Hamilton family, which is all distinctly Scottish, yet his highest title in the Peerage of Scotland is that of an Earl; hence the Duke of Hamilton, head of the Douglas house, is Premier Scottish Peer.

In consequence of female succession, the surname changed from time to time, but that of Brand was brought in by the marriage in 1771 of the Bnss. 19th in line. The 9th Bn. was executed for being concerned in a deer-stealing affair in the course of which one of the keepers was killed. The 15th Bn. was made Earl of Sussex, but the title expired with himself in 1715, and was re-created in 1717 in the Grey de Ruthyn line. That of Teynham was also briefly associated by the 2nd marriage of the 18th Bnss. The Viscty. was awarded to the Rt. Hon. Sir Henry W. Brand, G.C.B., Speaker of the House of Commons 1872-84; six years after retirement he succeeded his brother as 23rd Bn. Dacre. The illustrious John Hampden, the patriot, was one of the ancestors of the family in which this later Peerage was created.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. Hastings, 1264 by writ from Sir Simon de Montfort, made valid 1290 by Edward I.; a Bt. 1660.—Sir Henry de Hastings appears to have been the first to receive the above writ of summons, but the recognised founder of the family was Sir Thos. de Astley, another of the Barons who fought at Evesham against Henry III., and whose family became eventually united by marriage with that of Hastings. From the death of the 6th Bn. (3rd and last Earl of Pembroke in that line) in 1391 this Peerage was in abeyance for 450 years, till in 1841 this condition was terminated by the awarding of the title to Sir Jacob Astley, 6th Bt. The late Peer had hitherto been regarded as the 11th, but 'Burke' and 'Debrett' now make him the 20th, and his Lordship himself wrote us that this is correct: the nine intermediate names, however, are not supplied, and obviously are made up of those who never held the title in their lifetime.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Visc. Hereford, 1550; a Bt. 1611.—There were Earls of Hereford from feudal times, the first recorded by Nicolas being the Count of Bretville in Normandy, commander of the van of the Conqueror's army at Hastings. Then we have Henry de Bohun (creation 1199), one of the 25 "Barons" appointed to enforce the observance of Magna Charta. His line became extinct in 1372, and in 1397 Henry Plantagenet, afterwards Henry IV., was made Duke of Hereford. This title was merged in the Crown, but that of Earl of Hereford was used conjointly with Northampton, Buckingham, and Perche, apparently without warrant, by Humphrey, Earl of Stafford, afterwards Duke of Buckingham (creation of 1444). The Viscty. now subsisting was conferred upon the 3rd Bn. Ferrers in recognition of his services in the French wars of Henry VIII. That Barony after a while fell into abeyance, but was revived as a separate Peerage, and eventually made into the present Earldom of that title, q.v. The 2nd Visc. Hereford was promoted to be Earl of Essex and of Ewe, the 2nd Earl being the unfortunate favourite of Queen Elizabeth; this title, however, lapsed on the death of the 3rd Earl, the distinguished General in the Parliamentary Army, simultaneously with the passing of the above Ferrers Barony into abeyance. The late 15th Visc. Hereford was Hon. Canon of Durham.

CREATIONS. Ld. Herries, Scot. 1490 and Bn. H. U.K. 1884.—Herbert Herries was by James IV. created 1st Scottish Ld. The 7th Ld. became by his father's marriage 3rd Earl of Nithsdale; but the 9th Ld. and 5th Earl forfeited both his honours on being taken prisoner at Preston Pans in 1715, and would have been executed but for the aid of his wife in effecting his escape from the Tower. The Earldom lapsed altogether, but the Barony was revived by decision of the House of Lords in 1858 when Wm. Constable-Maxwell was awarded the title as 10th Bn. (Debrett, by counting the intermediate successors, makes him the 13th). Female succession had changed the surname from Herries to Maxwell and then Constable; the father of the 10th Bn. (himself excluded by the attainder), assumed the present compound form.

Creations. Bn. Howard de Walden, Engl. 1597 by writ; Bn. Seaford, U.K. 1826.—Lord Thos. Howard, K.G., son of the 4th Duke of Norfolk, was created Bn. Howard de Walden and six years later Earl of Suffolk: he is stated to have been mainly instrumental in discovering the Gunpowder Plot. On the death of the 3rd Earl that title went to a brother; but the Barony, being a creation by writ, passed into abeyance between two daughters, and so continued from 1639 to 1784, shortly after which it devolved upon the 4th Earl of Bristol as 5th Bn. On the death of this nobleman in 1803—his eldest son as well as the daughter and sole child of that son being both deceased—the Barony passed to the son of that daughter, who had married Chas. Rose Ellis, 1st Bn. Seaford; but the Earldom went to the Earl's 2nd son, subsequently created 1st Marq. of Bristol. The 4th Bn. Howard, a Field-Marshal in the Army (successor to the 3rd Earl of Suffolk), was created Bn. Braybrooke, but on his decease without issue that title parted off as a separate Peerage. The 6th Bn. was Minister at Stockholm, Lisbon, and Brussels. The family name has been successively Howard, Whitwell-Griffin, Herrey, and Ellis.

The son of this pair succeeded to the titles of both his grandfather and his mother, and was awarded the revived title of Earl Howe, and assumed the additional surname Howe, which only the youngest of his sons now adopts (the 7th, who is deceased, took that of Curzon-Smyth). Meldrum, 1815.—Alex. Seton, who married the heiress of the Gordon house, was made a Lord of Parliament as Ld. Gordon in or about 1437, and his son of the same name (who, with his brothers, reverted to the ancestral name of Gordon) was created Earl of Huntly in 1445; but the legal settlement was not effected till 1450, and is reckoned from George, son of the latter, called 2nd Earl (the Gordon Lordship being wholly dropped). The 6th of this line obtained the Marquessate, and also the string of titles created in 1660. The Aboyne Earldom, with the revived title of Ld. Gordon, was conferred upon the 4th son of the 2nd Marquess, ancestor of the present Peer; whilst the U.K. Barony of Meldrum fell to the lot of the 9th Marquess. There was formerly a Dukedom of Gordon attached to this line (Scot. 1684-1836); it was given to the 4th Marq. and it continued till the death of the 8th, being eventually revived in 1876 and conferred upon the Duke of Richmond. The 2nd Marq., who was beheaded for his zeal for the Royal cause, had been created Visc. Aboyne, with remainder to his 2nd son, at whose death unmarried that title expired. A Lordship of Aboyne, together with the title Visc. Melgum, was conferred upon a brother of the 2nd Marq., but these titles came to an end through the death of their holder in the burning of Frendraght Tower. The Baronetcy was granted to Robert, grandson of the 2nd Earl, with remainder to heirs male whatsoever.

KEITH, Viscounty (U.K. 1814)—extinct from 1823 on death of 1st V. (surname Elphinstone).

 Connected with this Peerage there were three Baronies of Keith, of which that of Stonehaven Marischal expired with the Viscounty, but that of Banheath and an Irish Barony survived under female succession until 1897 (in latter case only under special remainder). The Barony of Nairne went by inheritance to the last Bnss. Keith, who married the Comte de Flahault. Their eldest daughter, Emily Jane (who on her mother's death became Bnss. Nairne in her own right, but not Bnss. Keith, for both the remaining Baronies under that title now lapsed, having been devised only to her mother and issue male), married the 4th M. of Lansdowne, thus transmitting the Nairne Barony to his heirs. The name following is that of a younger daughter of Bnss. Keith and Nairne by her French husband, and therefore sister of the above late Mchss. of Lansdowne.

CREATION. Irel. : Bn. of Kingsale, Bn. Courcy, and Bn. of Ringrone, 1223 by writ, confirmed by patent 1397, but preceded by an English Bny. by tenure from the Conquest. —Sir John de Courcy, an English Knight, the famous founder of the family, is celebrated as having, in conjunction with his bro.-in-law Sir Amoricus Tristram (who obtained the tenure Barony of Howth), effected the conquest of Ulster ; and again, after having given offence to King John, as having acted as English champion in a single combat with the champion of France (who however fled without striking a blow), thus regaining his sovereign's favour. The King, we are told in 'Burke, had actually imprisoned him for a year ; but upon receipt of the challenge from France, and finding no one else ready to accept it, Sir John was liberated for the purpose, with the above result of his antagonist being seized with panic and taking to flight. The two monarchs fraternised over this event, and joined in desiring to see an exhibition of Sir John's strength, upon which he cleft a massive helmet in twain at a single blow. This exploit so delighted his master that he asked him to choose whatever he should give him ; whereupon the Knight replied that he had estates and titles enough, and would ask the privilege, for himself and all successors, of remaining covered in the royal presence. He died in 1219, apparently without issue, but four years after his death the Baronies of Kingsale, Courcy, and Ringrone were granted to his kinsman, Miles de Courcy. The title of Earl of Ulster (q.v.) appears never to have been held by this line

KINLOSS, BARONESS. MARY Morgan-Grenville (née Temple-Nugent-Brydges-Chandos-Grenville), Bnss. 11th in line (Scot.), C.I.: dau. of 3rd D. of Buckingham and Chandos (extinct), on whose death she succeeded to the only one of his titles which could descend to a female (see "Cobham, V." and "Temple of Stowe, E.," on the part-female succession of those titles); b. Sept. 30, 1852; suc. 1889; mar. 1884 the late Luis Ferdinand H. C. Morgan, Esq., who with herself subsequently assumed the additional name of Grenville, the last of her former five surnames (d. 1896). Seats, Stowe, Buckingham; Moreton Ldg., Maids Moreton, do.

CREATION. Ld. Kinloss, Scot. 1602 (see "Buckingham Dukedom").—Sir Edwd. Bruce (Kt.), who was twice Scottish Ambassador to England, was 1st Ld. Kinloss, the 3rd Ld. being made Earl of Elgin, and the 4th, Earl of Ailesbury, whilst the 7th, by a shifting of the line, was the 3rd Duke of Chandos. All these and other titles have either lapsed or separated off, leaving the Kinloss Barony wholly to itself. The present Bnss. is called by some authorities the 8th in line, and correctly as far as assumption of the title decides. On the death of the 6th Bn (who was also 4th Earl of Elgin) the succession devolved upon the 3rd Duke of Chandos (last of the line extinct 1789), who never assumed the title, nor did his dau. and heiress, who married the 1st Duke of Buckingham and Chandos of the line created 1822, nor again their son the 2nd Duke (to whom the succession de jure passed from his mother), so that the 3rd Duke had in 1868 to substantiate his claim to the Barony before the House of Lords.

Creations. Scot.: Ld. Falconer, 1647; E. of Kintore and Ld. Keith of Inverurie, 1677, with succession to heirs female in default of male. U.K.: Bn. Kintore, 1838. "Lord Inverurie" is the courtesy-title of the heir when a firstborn son only.—Sir Wm. Keith was created Earl Marischal of Scotland about 1458, and this honour passed by hereditary descent like that of Earl Marshal in England. The 3rd son of the 6th Earl Marischal, the Hon. Sir Jno. Keith, was in 1660 made Hereditary Knight Marischal of Scotland in recognition of his having concealed and so preserved the Scottish regalia during the Civil War; and in 1677 the above Earldom and Lordship were added. The 2nd Earl, however, joined in the rebellion of 1715, for which he was deprived of the Knight Marischalship, though of that only. But his relative the 10th Earl Marischal, who had participated in the same rebellion, was attainted, so that on coming to succeed in 1761 to the Peerage titles he was disqualified and they remained suspended till his death. A daughter of the above 2nd Earl, however, had married the 5th Ld. Falconer (a title originally conferred upon a son of Sir Alex. Falconer), and their grandson Anthony Adrian, 8th Ld., now became 5th Earl of Kintore. So the matter is stated in 'Burke,' but the present Peer regards the predecessor of this last as an actual holder of the title, and thus considers himself the 10th Earl. The U.K. Barony was granted to the Earl ordinarily accounted the 7th.

CREATIONS. Gt. Br.: Ld. Wycombe, Bn. of Chipping Wycombe, 1760; M. of Lansdowne, E. of Wycombe, and Visc. Calne and Calstone, 1784. Irel.: Ld. of Kerry and Lixnaw, abt. 1250, by tenure; Lord of Kerry by writ, 1295; E. of Kerry and Visc. Clanmaurice, 1723; Visc. Fitzmaurice and Bn. Dunkeron, 1751; E. of Shelburne, 1753. Scot.: Bn. Nairne, 1681 (the Barony of Keith, once attached to this, has been extinct from 1867).—One of the three triple Peerages (INTROD. p. 37). Under that of Ireland, which is much the earliest, we find Thos. Fitzmaurice, grandson of a sister of Strongbow, being made 1st Ld. of Kerry and Lixnaw, the 2nd Ld. of Kerry receiving the summons by writ, and the 21st obtaining the Earldom with its accompanying Viscounty. The second son of the latter was created Visc. Fitzmaurice and Bn. Dunkeron, shortly afterwards Earl of Shelburne, and still later Bn. Wycombe in the Peerage of Gt. Britain. His son, the 2nd Earl of Shelburne, who was a General in the Army, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and eventually Prime Minister, obtained the Marquessate with the associated British titles. The 3rd Marq. was Chancellor of the Exchequer and Lord President of the Council, afterwards till 1858 a Cabinet Minister without portfolio. The Scottish Barony of Nairne, as stated in the text, has only come to this house through the marriage of the present Peer's father (4th Marq., K.G., Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs) with the late Baroness. This last Peerage was originally conferred upon Robt. Nairne, an advocate, who had been imprisoned ten years for fidelity to the house of Stuart, but whose successor, by remaining steadfast to that line and refusing allegiance to William III., forfeited the title, which was only restored in 1824. A great granddaughter of the 2nd Bn. married the only Visc. Keith, and their daughter in 1837 succeeded as Bnss. Nairne and Keith on the death of the 6th Bn. N.; but the K. title expired at her own death, being limited to herself and heirs male.—The surname Petty, now practically disused, is derived from Sir Wm. Petty (father of the 1st Earl of Kerry's wife), who was distinguished by accomplishing (1654-6) the survey of a large portion of Ireland; the name was first assumed by his grandson, the above 1st Earl of Shelburne.

LAURIE, BARONETCY of an older Maxwelton line (Scot. 1685), deemed extinct 1848, but now assumed as 10th Bt. by Henry Alfred Laurie (of 51 Gwendwr Rd., Kensington). He states that he is descended from a 3rd son of the 1st Bt., but the pedigrees at the College of Arms do not tally with his assertion, and no real authority accords any sanction to the claim.

The Baronetcy itself, however, was in its past a thoroughly genuine one, having lasted from 1685 up till the death of Adm. Sir Robert Laurie, the 6th in its line, in 1848. It includes, moreover, an episode which will probably interest many, and for an account of which we are indebted to the courtesy of the Rev. Sir Emilius Laurie above. We had enquired of him whether "Annie Laurie," so renowned in song, was a veritable historical personage; and the answer came that the said lady was the actual daughter of the 1st Baronet, and born in 1682. The words of the song were composed by a youth named Douglas of Fingland, and the music more than a century afterwards by Lady Jno. Spottiswood; but, alas! the "promise true" proved a delusion, as too often the case with young ladies distinguished by special beauty of person (swans' necks and such-like little playfulnesses of nature); so she threw poor Douglas over, and married in his place Alexander Fergusson of Craigdarroch. The portraits of both herself and her husband, it is added, are in the keeping of the Baronet who still holds possession where "Maxwelton braes are bonnie."

Creations. Eng. : A Bt. 1620 ; Visc. Latimer and Bn. Osborne, 1673 ; E. of Danby, 1674 ; M. of Carmarthen, 1689 ; D. of Leeds, 1694. U.K. : Bn. Godolphin, 1832. Scot. : Visc. Osborne, 1674 (N.S.) ; Visc. Dunblane, 1675 ("Dumblane" on Scot. Roll, and apparently this form or "Dumblaine" was the orig.).—Sir Thomas Osborne, 2nd Bt., was successively awarded the whole of the Peerage titles given under "England," together with that of Visc. Osborne in Scotland. His son, the 2nd Duke, long before accession, obtained the other Scottish Viscty., the Godolphin Barony being granted to the 2nd son of the 5th Duke, whose son eventually succeeded as the 8th.

A question has been raised of late as to the origin of the title Leeds, and it has even been distinctly assigned to County Kent. It is true that there is a Leeds Castle near Maidstone and that at an early period the Osborne family was located at Ashford, some 14 miles distant, in the same county. But at the time of the creation of the Peerages it is abundantly clear that the Northern county had become their place of abode. The 1st Bt., who already in 1620 was a Knight of Kiveton, near Sheffield, was Vice-President of the "Council of the North" and Lieut.-General of the Royalist Forces raised there ; his successor was created Bn. Osborne of Kiveton and Earl of Danby, both in Yorks. ; he was successively High Sheriff and Lord Lieutenant of the entire county and Governor of Hull, and owned ground-rents in the town of Leeds itself ; and it was upon him that the Dukedom was first conferred. Then as to the Leeds Castle in Kent, it passed through the hands of very various owners, but not a scrap of evidence exists of the family in question having resided there for a day. It is now in the hands of the Wykeham-Martin family, a recent member of which produced an elaborate and costly history of it, in which work a son of his has informed us the name of Osborne does not occur : in fact, the only feeble attempt we have met with at tracing a connection consists in the allegation that the ducal family is descended from a granddaughter of Sir Warham St. Leger, who had once formerly been owner of the castle. The estimable Leeds historian Thoresby recounts an interview with the 1st Duke in which the latter stated expressly that he had chosen the title on account of Leeds being "the most considerable place for trade in the county;" and Sir H. Nicolas says distinctly, "Leeds, Co. York." Thus, as the present Duke has no means of deciding the matter, the Kentish theory may, in the words of a leading authority whom we have consulted, be safely dismissed as one of those "cock-and-bull ideas hardly worth seriously confuting."

LEICESTER, BARONET. Sir PETER FLEMING FREDERIC Leicester, 8th Bt. (Irel. 1671), Capt. Res. of Offrs., formerly Lieut. 51st L.I.: son (by a late 2nd mrrge.) of Rev. Fredc. Leicester, and gt. grandson of 4th Bt.; b. 1863, suc. 1895 (the 7th Bt. being his 2nd cousin, the 3rd Bn. De Tabley, on whose decease the Barony became extinct and the Baronetcy was liberated); mar. 1904 Kate Patten, dau. of the late Edwd. M. Warden, Esq., of New York. Heir pres., his bro. Capt. BYRON L. (b. 1868: 2nd heir, their 2nd cousin Maj. William Frederick L., b. 1831). Res., unfixed.

 The orig. Baronetcy of this name was created 1660 (Eng.), but it expired on the death of the 3rd Bt. His daughter however married Sir Jno. Byrne, 3rd Bt. of the Irish Baronetcy of 1671, and his successor adopted the name of Leicester. It was the next in succession, the 5th Bt., who was created Bn. De Tabley (U.K. 1826-95). The 6th Bt. assumed the surname Warren, but that does not affect his present successor whose descent is shown above.

LEICESTER, BISHOP OF. Rt. Rev. LEWIS Clayton, D.D., Bp. Suff. in Peterborough Dioc. and a Canon Res. of Peterborough, formerly Vicar of St. Margaret's, Leicester, is a C.C. for Hunts.: b. 1838, cons. 1903, mar. 1872. Res., Canonry House, Peterborough.

LEICESTER, EARL OF. THOMAS WILLIAM Coke (pron. Cook), 2nd Earl (U.K.), K.G. (1873), Lord Lieut. of Norfolk, was Keeper of the Privy Seal to H.M. when Prince of Wales: son of 1st E.; b. Dec. 26, 1822; suc. 1842 (L.U.); mar., 1st, 1843, the late Juliana, dau. of Saml. C. Whitbread, Esq. (she died 1870); 2ndly, 1875, Hon. Georgiana Caroline Cavendish, dau. of 2nd Bn. Chesham. Seat, Holkham, Wells R.S.O., Norfolk.

CREATION. E. of Leicester and Visc. Coke, U.K. 1837.—This Earldom, which first appears in Sir H. Nicolas's pages with the remote date of 1103, has undergone a long succession of extinctions and forfeitures till it has become distinctly a modern line. The most notable among former holders of the title, excepting only Sir Simon de Montfort, was the discarded favourite of Queen Elizabeth, a son of the Duke of Northumberland. He (Sir Robert Dudley, K.G.) was the only representative of that creation, and later extinct lines were started in 1618, 1744, and 1784 (for the last of these see under "Townshend, Marq."). An illustrious ancestor of the present Peer is Sir Edward Coke, knighted by James I. and appointed Chief Justice of the King's Bench. A descendant, Thos. Wm. Coke, for many years M.P. for Norfolk, was the recipient of the present titles. The creation of 1744 was also to a Coke.

CREATIONS. Irel.: Bn. of Offaly, 1205 by tenure; E. of Kildare, 1316; M. of Kildare and E. of Offaly, 1761; D. of Leinster, 1766. Gt. Br.: Visc. Leinster, 1747. U.K.: Bn. Kildare, 1870.—Gerald Fitzmaurice FitzGerald, the 1st Bn., was son of Maurice FitzGerald, "patriarch of the Irish Geraldines," and a distinguished warrior, who, with the aid of Strongbow and a mere 600 English troops defeated 30,000 Irish, who, under Roderick, King of Ireland, had invested Dublin, the latter monarch having previously driven the King of Leinster from his territory, whilst the purpose of Maurice and Strongbow was to reinstate him. The 2nd Bn. Offaly introduced the Franciscans and Dominicans into Ireland; the 6th was created Earl of Kildare, and it was in his time that the family coat of arms, containing three monkeys, was adopted, in consequence, it is said, of this Earl, when an infant, having been rescued from a fire by a tame ape, which tenderly bore him aloft into one of the towers. Several Earls of Kildare have figured in English history. The 7th was Lord Deputy of Ireland and afterwards Lord Chancellor. The 8th, called "The Great Earl" and "Gerod Mor," was for 33 years Lord Deputy and Lord Justice, and was also a warrior famed for his strength. He was deceived into supporting Lambert Simnel in his claims to the throne, and engaged in the conflict with Henry VII.'s troops; but he afterwards made his peace with the King, and in the following year gave valiant aid against Perkin Warbeck. The 9th Earl incurred the hatred of Wolsey and was commited to the Tower, where he died from horror at the sentence of excommunication pronounced against him for the murder of Archbp. Alen, committed by his followers. The 10th Earl, his son, in consequence threw off his English allegiance and revolted, but surrendered under promise of pardon, which Henry VIII. violated and had him hanged, drawn, and quartered. The 11th Earl, then but a boy of twelve, had to flee the country, and was housed and brought up at Rome by Cardinal Pole. Edward VI. restored him his estates, and Mary his honours. The 20th Earl was constituted Marquess and Duke, and awarded also the British Viscounty. The Kildare Barony was created for the heir of the 3rd Duke during the lifetime of his father.

CREATIONS. Scot.: Bn. Melville, 1616; E. of Leven and Bn. Balgonie, 1641; E. of Melville, Visc. Kirkaldie, and Bn. Raith, Monymail, and Balwearie, 1690.—Sir Robt. Melville (Kt.), a P.C. of Scotland and Ambassador to England, the 1st Bn., was distinguished by his dauntless endeavour to prevent the shameful execution of Mary Queen of Scots, which boldness of his caused Elizabeth to threaten his life; but after that arbitrary woman had passed away, King James elevated him to the Peerage as Bn. Melville, also appointing him Vice-Chancellor and an Extra Lord of Session (as Ld. Murdocarnie). The 4th Bn. obtained from William III. the Earldom of Melville with its accompanying Viscounty and Baronies, though previously he had been involved in the rebellion of Monmouth, and been in consequence attainted. The Earldom of Leven had a separate commencement, having been conferred upon Gen. Sir Alex. Lesley, a distinguished commander, who, having first served under Gustavus Adolphus, afterwards led a Scottish Army of the Covenanters in an invasion of England against Charles I., and had an important share in the victory of Marston Moor, but who, upon the treaty with that monarch, so won his favour that he raised him to this Peerage, and obtained his continued services upon the Royalist side. His granddaughter married the 1st Earl of Melville, and thus, on the failure of the direct Leven line, the two Earldoms came to be united. There have been two Countesses in the Leven line, and the present Peer will be reckoned the 13th or 11th according as these are or are not included in the numbering. Our practice in this work is to count the entire line, male and female alike; but some authorities allow themselves to vary from one plan to the other, doubtless to suit the preference of individual Peers.

Barnes. Seats, Kilconquhar Castle R.S.O., Fifesh.; Wormistone House, Crail R.S.O., same Co.

CREATIONS. Scot.: Ld. Lindsay of the Byres, 1445; E. of Lindsay and Ld. Parbroath, 1633; Visc. of Garnock and Ld. Kilbirnie, Kingsburn, and Drumry, 1703.—Sir Jno. Lindsay (Kt.), Justiciary of the Northern part of Scotland, was created Ld. Lindsay of the Byres, the 10th Ld. received the Earldom, and the son of his 2nd son was separately created Visc. of Garnock, the latter's grandson eventually succeeding as 5th Earl of Lindsay. Meantime a complication had set in to this higher title, causing it for some 166 years to be associated with the Earldom of Crawford. The succession to both Earldoms was open to "heirs male general" (INTROD.), but upon the 16th Earl of Crawford having no issue, he in 1642 obtained a new charter diverting the descent to the "direct heirs" of his friend and remote kinsman, the 1st Earl of Lindsay, with reversion upon the failure of such heirs, to the previous line of remainder, i.e., his own collaterals. Thus this 1st Earl of Lindsay took the title of Earl of Crawford-Lindsay, and his five next successors continued to hold both titles; but in 1808 the "direct heirs" of the Lindsay line failed, and then, in virtue of the above charter and the regular law for "heirs general," the lines divided, and each went to its own collaterals—the Lindsay Earldom to the 16th Lord Lindsay of the Byres, and that of Crawford to the 6th Earl of Balcarres. It must be observed that the above Earls all along had held this Lordship of the Byres, but that in 1808 a reversion had to be made to a descendant of the 4th Ld., followed in 1878, as decided by the House of Lords, by another reversion, but only to the descendant of another son of the same Lord. The 4th Earl of Lindsay, 20th of Crawford, distinguished himself in the wars with the Turks and French, commanding in 1740 the Black Watch, then styled "the gallant 42nd" and "Lord Crawford-Lindsay's Highlanders."—The name of Bethune was first assumed by the grandfather of the 9th Earl de jure, who, however, never adopted any higher title than that of 18th Ld. Lindsay of the Byres.

Kerr of Nisbet, Langnewtoune, and Dolphingtoune, 1633; M. of Lothian, E. of Ancram (renewed, and perhaps spelt "Ancrum" this time), Visc. of Briene, and Ld. Kerr of Newbottle, Oxnam, Jedburgh, Dolphingtoun, and Nisbet, 1701. U.K.: Bn. Ker (of Kersheugh), 1821.—Mark Kerr, an Extraordinary Lord of Session and Master of Requests, obtained the title of Lord Newbottle and later on of Earl of Lothian. A cousin of his was created Ld. Jedburgh, and another cousin Earl of Ancram, but the titles all converged. The 4th Earl was raised to the Marquessate, and the 6th Marq. made a U.K. Baron. The 1701 creation seems to have adopted the form "Ancrum," which is the name of one of the family estates; but "Ancram" is the orthography used in the title of the heir when a firstborn son (compare the above forms "Ld. Newbottle" and "Newbattle Abbey").

LOUDOUN, EARL OF. CHARLES EDWARD HASTINGS Abney-Hastings, 11th Earl (Scot.), sits as Bn. Botreaux (Eng.); a D.L. for Ayrshire, late Lieut. Leic. Yeom.: son of Chas. F. Abney-Hastings, Esq. (né Clifton, created Bn. Donington after death of his wife), and of the late Ctss. of Loudoun, sist. of 4th and last M. of Hastings, on the extinction of whose Marquessate the Earldom and other Scottish titles passed to this lady, the English Baronies falling into abeyance, till terminated in her favour in 1871; b. Jan. 5, 1855; suc. to Earldom &c. (C.) on death of his mother 1874, to Donington Barony on that of his father 1895; mar. 1880 Hon. Alice Mary Elizabeth Fitzalan-Howard, dau. of 1st Bn. CREATIONS. Scot.: Ld. Campbell of Loudoun, 1601; E. of Loudoun and Ld. Tarrinzean and Mauchline, 1633. Eng. (all by writ): Ld. Botreaux, 1368; Ld. Hungerford, 1426; Ld. De Moleyns, 1445; Ld. Hastings of Ashby-de-la-Zouch, 1461, U.K.: Bn. Donington, 1880. "Ld. Mauchline" is the courtesy-title of an eld. son.—Sir Hugh Campbell, Sheriff of Ayr, another descendant of the ancestor of the Dukes of Argyll, was created Ld. Campbell of Loudoun. His granddaughter, Bnss. in her own right, married Sir Jno. Campbell, son of Sir Colin Campbell of Glenorchy, and her husband was awarded the Loudoun Earldom with its accompanying Baronies. Of the English titles it is sufficient here to explain that those of Botreaux, De Moleyns, and Hungerford had become united in Mary, heiress of the 4th Ld. Hungerford, who married the heir to the Hastings Barony, which afterwards became a Marquessate, this last becoming extinct on the lapse of male heirs, whilst the Baronies went into abeyance, from which they were liberated in 1871. They had come into the Loudoun line through the marriage of Sir Jno. Rawdon, 1st Earl of Moira, with Lady Eliz. Hastings, who succeeded to them on the death of her brother the 10th Earl of Huntingdon. For the U.K. Barony of Donington see the text. See also Bnss. Grey de Ruthyn and Hastings Marquessate.

Creation. Bn. of Louth, Irel. 1541.—Sir Oliver Plunkett (Kt.) was created 1st Bn. The 6th in his line was outlawed by the Parliament in 1641 for the support he gave to the Stuarts, and as his son and successor continued that support into the reign of James II., the force of the unrevoked outlawry was revived to exclude from Parliament the next (8th) holder of the title, and this was not reversed until 1798 during the tenure of the 11th Bn.

LOVAT, Baron. Simon Joseph Fraser, 16th Bn. (Scot.; 3rd of U.K., same title), C.V.O. (1903), C.B. (Mil. 1902), D.S.O. (1900–1), a D.L. for Inverness-sh., late Maj. 1st Vol. Batt. Cameron Highldrs. and Lieut. 1st Life Gds., now Hon. Maj. in Army and Lt.-Col. comdg. Lovat's Scouts Imper. Yeom., a force raised by him, was Maj. therein in S. Africa 1900-2: son of 15th Bn.; b. Nov. 25, 1871; suc. 1887 (C.); unmrrd. Seat, Beaufort Castle, Beauly, Co. Inverness.

Creations. Ld. Lovat, Scot. 1539, orig. abt. 1464, U.K. 1837.—Hugh Fraser, one of the hostages for James I. of Scotland's ransom when set at liberty in England (1424), was given by that monarch the Barony of Kinnell, which is considered by some, though hardly by Burke, to have constituted him 1st Ld. His grandson of the same name, who married a daughter of Ld. Glamis, was created Ld. Lovat, or Ld. Fraser of Lovat; but it was again the grandson of this latter who received the charter of 1539 by which the precedence of the house is reckoned. An unhappy episode in the family history was enacted by the 13th Ld. (11th of 'Burke') and the eldest daughter of the 11th (9th). They eloped together, but the woman, who on her father's death had styled herself Baroness, returned to her mother and married Alex. Mackenzie. The Court of Session eventually deprived her of her title and gave it in 1730 to her former lover. He however had in the interim of over 30 years distinguished himself by a further course of violence. He was in 1658 attainted and sentenced to death for seizing the estates of his intended spouse; the sentence not being carried out, he forcibly possessed himself of her own mother and compelled her to marry him, and for this he was outlawed in 1701. His crimes being gradually condoned by time, he was, as just stated, at length awarded the Peerage; but, taking part in the rebellion of 1745, he was impeached and executed on Tower Hill. After the death of his youngest son (who did not bear the title) the succession passed to a descendant of the 6th, upon whom the U.K. Barony was conferred.

Wentworth on the death of his bro. 1862, as E. of Lovelace &c. on his father's death 1893 (L.U.); mar., 1st, 1869, the late Fannie, dau. of Rev. Geo. Wharncliffe. Seats, Ockham Pk., Ripley, Woking; Ashley Combe, Porlock, Taunton; town res., Wentworth House, Swan Walk, Chelsea Embkmt., S.W.

Creations. Bn. Wentworth, Eng. 1529 by writ; Ld. King, Bn. of Ockham, Gt. Br. 1725; E. of Lovelace and Visc. Ockham, U.K. 1838.—Sir Thos. Wentworth (Kt.) was the 1st Bn. of that title, whilst Sir Peter King, Kt. and M.P., maternal nephew of Jno. Locke the philosopher, and who became Lord Chief Justice of Common Pleas and ultimately Lord Chancellor, was the 1st Ld. King, Bn. of Ockham. The 8th of the latter series was made Earl and Viscount. The 2nd Bn. W., the last English

Governor of Calais, was made a P.C. and a Kt. Banneret. The 4th Bn. was created Earl of Cleveland, but that title went no farther. Two granddaughters followed as holders of this Barony, and in their line of successors we find the further extinct titles of Visc. Wentworth and Bn. Lovelace. The Wentworth Barony itself in 1815 fell into abeyance between the deceased Baron's sister Judith, (who) by marriage had become Lady Milbanke, and his nephew, Lord Scarsdale; but this condition was terminated in 1856 by Anne Isabella, daughter of the former and then widow of Lord Byron (whose surname wa Noel-Byron), being left sole heir. Her only child, the Hon. Augusta Ada Noel-Byron, married the above nobleman, who was created 1st Earl of Lovelace. His Lordship has thus the high distinction of being a grandson of the poet Byron (he has lately co-operated in the production of the superior edition just completed of the poet's works). Lord B.'s widow, the above well-known Anne Isabella, Lady Byron, on the death of Bn. Scarsdale in 1856, became in her own right Bnss. Wentworth, until her decease in 1860, when she was succeeded for two years by her grandson. Her daughter the Hon. Augusta Ada, the endeared "Ada" of the poet, predeceased her mother in 1852, leaving two sons and a daughter, so that the Wentworth Barony passed to the elder of these sons; she had married William, Bn. King, who became 1st Earl of Lovelace. The elder of the two sons, 11th Bn. Wentworth by descent from his mother, died before his father; hence the younger now became 12th Bn. W., 9th Bn. King, and eventually 2nd Earl.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Visc. Mandeville and Bn. Montagu of Kimbolton, 1620; E. of Manchester, 1626. Gt. Br.: D. of Manchester, 1719.—Several Baronies of Montagu had been created from the time of Henry II. onwards, and there is understood to be a family connection between the first of these and the present Peerage. The existing Viscounty and Earldom were conferred upon Sir Henry Montagu, M.P. for the City of London and Lord Chief Justice of the King's Bench; he was afterwards made Lord Privy Seal. The 2nd Earl was a brilliant General on the Parliamentary side and took a leading part in the victory of Marston Moor, having Cromwell for his Lieut.-General. The execution of the King, however, caused him to abandon that side, and he was subsequently deputed by the Lords to congratulate Charles II. on his restoration. The 4th Earl, who had been Ambassador at Venice, Paris, and Vienna, and had been conspicuous in espousing the cause of William of Orange against James II., was raised to the Dukedom. The 5th Duke was Governor of Jamaica.

MANSEL BARONETCY (Eng. 1622). This title has been held unquestioned for eleven years by Courtenay Cecil Mansel of The Manor, Maes-y-Crugian, Carmarthenshire; but he has recently come to the conclusion that his uncle Edward Berkeley Mansel, elder brother of his father by a different mother, ought rightfully to have succeeded in 1883 in his father's place. The obstacle to such succession has lain in the fact that his uncle's parents had simply "lived together as man and wife," and the question has now to be decided whether by the peculiar customs of Scotland such cohabitation can be regarded as lawful marriage.

MANSEL, BARONET'S WIDOW. LADY M. (Ada Alice, dau. of the late Jas. Lea, Esq.), mar. 1891, as 2nd wife, Sir Richd. Mansel, 10th Bt. (d. 1892).

CREATIONS. Gt. Br.: E. of Mansfield of Co. Notts. 1776, and of Co. Middx. 1792. Scot.: Ld. Scone, 1605; Visc. of Stormont, 1621; Ld. Balvaird, 1641.—Sir David Murray, cup-bearer to James VI., whose life he had helped to save from the Gowrie plot, accompanied that monarch to England, and was created Ld. Scone and afterwards Visc. of Stormont. The title of Ld. Balvaird was given to a collateral, the Rev. Sir Andrew Murray, whose son, the 2nd Ld., succeeded as 4th Visc. Stormont. The title of Baron of Mansfield (extinct) was conferred upon a younger son of the 5th Visc., the Hon. Wm. Murray, a friend of the poet Pope, who concurrently was appointed Ld. Chief Justice of England. He obtained subsequently two patents of Earldom, of which the former assigned the remainder to the wife of his nephew, Visc. Stormont, owing to a mistaken belief that no English Peerage could pass to a Scottish Peer. When the contrary was ascertained the second patent was granted with remainder to the Viscount himself. Thus two distinct Earldoms of Mansfield passed to the above husband and wife; but on the death of the latter they were reunited, the 4th Earl upon the male side being her grandson and nearest heir (he succeeded her in 1843, his father in 1840). On the Imperial Roll of Peers the name stands "William David, Earl of Mansfield," not "Mansfield and Mansfield," though the 4th Earl referred to himself by that double title.

MAR, EARL OF. JOHN FRANCIS ERSKINE Goodeve-Erskine, 30th Earl (Scot., PREM. EARLDOM), M.A., a Repres. Peer for Scotld. (el. 1886): nephew of 29th E. and son of Lady Frances Jemima (née Erskine), mar. to Wm. Jas. Goodeve, Esq.; b. March 29, 1836; suc. 1866, with confirmation by Act 1885 (C.); assumed name of Erskine 1866; mar. same year Alice Mary Sinclair, dau. of the late Jno. Hamilton, Esq., of Hilston Pk., Monmouthsh. Res., Sunnington Rise, Bournemouth.

CREATIONS. Scot.: E. of Mar (orig. Marr), bef. 1114, but given precedence of 1404 as earliest date for which documentary evidence was produced at the "Decreet of Ranking" in 1606; Ld. Garioch, 1336; Ld. Erskine, 1426, and Ld. Alloa 1489 (as to which see under follg. line). —We are indebted for the earlier part of the following particulars to the Hon. Ruaidhri Erskine's investigations into the early history of this ancient and obscure Peerage, which he has most courteously and at considerable pains contributed for our benefit. The origin of the house of Mar has been traced back to Corc, son of Lughaidh, King of Munster in the era of St. Patrick. Corc, who was banished to Scotland at the instigation of his stepmother, is said to have married Mongfhionn, daughter of the King of the Picts, and from this marriage the Mar line is regarded as having sprung. The descendants of Corc bore the title of Mòrmhàoir Mhàrr or Great Stewards of Marr (the form "Mharr" being the genitive of "Marr," and "Mòrmhàor," in plural "Mòrmhàoir," a variant or earlier form of the title usually given as "Mormaer"). Of these descendants, probably the first whose identity is clear was Domhnull (Donald), who was slain at Clontarf in 1014. But the first to be styled Earl or Comes was Ruaidhri (Latinised "Rotheri," but pronounced and often written "Ruari"), whose name appears as "Comes" in the charter founding the Abbey of Scone in 1114–15, and in the "Book of Deer" in 1132, though in the latter styled Mòrmhàor: in fact this latter title was very probably still used conventionally until the extinction of the Celtic dynasty in the person of the "Maid of Norway" at the close of the 13th century. William, the 6th Earl, was co-Regent of Scotland in 1258, and the contests of this powerful nobleman with Durnard, who declared him illegitimate, add a fresh element of obscurity to the history of this line. William, however, "remained in possession." Donald, the 9th Earl, was Regent of Scotland in 1332. Margaret, Countess 11th in line, married Donald, 1st Earl of Douglas, father of the Earl who fell at "Chevy Chase." The names thus far accepted by Mr. Erskine as either certain or probable Earls (though the element of rivalry casts some doubt in one or two instances) may be thus stated: 1, Ruaidhri; 2, Gillechrìst; 3, Morgund; 4, Malcolm; 5, Duncan; 6, William; 7, Donald; 8, Gartnait; 9, Donald (2); 10, Thomas; 11, William (2); 12, James; 13, Alexander (No. 9, taking the title jure uxoris). The 14th to succeed, Sir Robt. Erskine, was a collateral relative who had been created Ld. Erskine, but who was not recognised as Earl by the Crown. His successor was granted the Alloa Lordship, but formally dispossessed of the Earldom, and that title was now merged in the Crown until in 1565 this dispossession was pronounced unjust and the 19th Earl and 6th Lord Erskine was fully recognised as lawful holder of the higher of these dignities. The Garioch Lordship was conferred upon Lady Christian Bruce, sister of King Robert I. and wife of the 8th Earl. The above 19th Earl was also the 1st in what is now declared to be the line of Mar and Kellie, which continued for several generations to be associated with the original line without apparently any allegation of their distinctness being made: the Erskine and Alloa Lordships had accompanied the leading title, and these are now claimed as belonging to each line. The ground of exclusion of the above Sir Robt. Erskine was the illegitimacy of the husband of the Countess who had preceded him; but as his own descent was not from these but from the 8th Earl there was obviously reason enough for a reversal of the decree, though under it the title had been bestowed upon sons of the 2nd and 3rd Jameses, and the legitimate successors from the 14th to the 18th were Earls de jure alone. The 20th Earl was Lord Treasurer of Scotland, the 22nd was Chancellor, and the 24th Secretary of State, but he suffered attainder for sharing in the insurrection of 1715. The 27th was in 1824 restored to all the titles (the 25th and 26th being counted in the numbering though legally deprived); and it was on the death of the 29th that the separation of the titles occurred as below.

The two Earldoms, "Mar" and "Mar and Kellie," have much intricacy in their history, as will in part be evident from the summary above. In the 15th century the line of Mar became involved in the proceedings detailed above, but in 1565 after an investigation the title was awarded to its then claimant, but the conditions were stated to be so altered that the House of Lords, on reviewing it in 1875, pronounced them to have amounted to a new creation. The succession, however, had for centuries continued as before, and in 1834 the Earldom of Kellie was united with this original Mar Earldom; but on the death of the holder of the joint titles (29th Earl of Mar) without issue in 1866 they again became separated, the title of Kellie going to the next male heir, whilst the original Earldom followed female succession to the present Earl of Mar. Finally, on the conclusion of the above-mentioned investigation by the House of Lords, it was decided that the Mar Earldom declared to have commenced in 1565 must also pass to the inheritor on the male side, whilst the 1404 Earldom remained as the distinct Peerage of Mar, a special Act being passed in 1885 to place unchallenged the continuity of that ancient Peerage. The course of changes may be thus summed up: Up to 1834 what are now proved to have been two Mar Earldoms had from 1565 been held by one and the same Peer; from 1834 to 1866 they remained united and with the further association of the Kellie title; from 1866 to 1875 this last title parted off and left the two as before; and since 1875 the Kellie line has been possessed of the 2nd creation of Mar. His Lordship the present holder of the original Earldom protests that this 2nd creation is a fabrication altogether; but of course it is impossible for a work like the present to go behind the decision of the House of Lords or do anything more than record the protest without comment.

CREATIONS. Scot.: Ld. Erskine, 1425, and Ld. Alloa, 1489 (both titles claimed also by the elder line, but pronounced by the above Earl to have been never disputed before); E. of Mar (2nd creation, see under that title), 1565; Ld. Dirleton, 1603; Visc. Fentoun, 1606; E. of Kellie, 1619.—Sir Robt. Erskine (Kt., see preceding article), who had been recognised by Robert III. as entitled to the Earldom of Mar, was granted the Erskine Lordship, but it was not till some 108 years later that his line was established in the higher title. His successor appears to have had the Alloa Lordship added. The 4th Lord Erskine fell at Flodden. The 6th Lord Erskine had the Earldom of Mar confirmed to him by charter, and this document, as explained above, was the origin of the division of the titles, it being deduced therefrom that this Peer was constituted recipient of the 1st Earldom of the new creation whilst he continued to rank as 22nd under the old. The Dirleton Barony and Fentoun Viscty. were about the same date conferred upon Sir Thos. Erskine, K.G., a grandson of the 5th Lord E., in recognition of his having shared with Sir David Murray (see "Mansfield") in rescuing King James from the Gowrie conspiracy; and to him also, rather later, the Kellie Earldom was accorded. On the death of the 10th Earl of this latter line the 30th (9th) Earl of Mar became his successor. The decision of the House of Lords in 1875 is thus given: "Resolved, that Walter Henry, Earl of Kellie, Visc. Fentoun, and Bn. Erskine and Dirleton, hath made out his claim to the Earldom of Mar created in 1565." For further particulars see previous article.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. Spencer, 1603; E. of Sunderland, 1643: Bn. Churchill, 1685; E. of Marlborough, 1689; D. of Marlborough and M. of Blandford, 1702.—Sir Robt. Spencer (Kt.) was created 1st Bn. of that title, and the 3rd Bn. was granted the Sunderland Earldom, but was slain at Newbury in the year of his promotion, fighting on the Royalist side. The other honours began in a distinct family. Jno. Churchill, a Page of Honour to James, Duke of York, afterwards King James II., was made an officer in the Guards and rendered signal services against the Moors and at the Siege of Maestricht. He in 1680 attended the Prince into Scotland, and was in 1682 made a Peer of that kingdom by the title Lord Churchill of Eyemouth (which title then went no further than himself). He next became a General officer, and on the accession of James to the throne he was appointed Ambassador to France and created Bn. Churchill of Sandridge (English Peerage) and afterwards Earl of Marlborough. At the Revolution he abandoned James and became a supporter of King William, but was suspected by him of treachery and committed to the Tower. Under Queen Anne he was appointed Captain-General of the Forces in England, and he then, with the co-operation of Prince Eugene of Savoy, head of the Army of Hungary, began his great military career signalised by the victories of Blenheim, Ramillies, Oudenarde, and Malplaquet. Previous to the first of these, and in recognition of a series of achievements in the Netherlands, he was created Duke of Marlborough and Marq. of Blandford. Being accused of peculation he withdrew from England, the Duchess also being expelled from the Court. As he left no male heir, a special Act gave the succession to his daughter Henrietta, upon whose death the Dukedom and its accompanying honours passed to her nephew, Chas. Spencer, 5th Earl of Sunderland (his father, the 3rd Earl, having married the Duchess's younger sister), thus accomplishing the union of the two houses. The 3rd Duke, who had commanded a brigade of Foot Guards at Dettingen in 1743, was in 1758 appointed Commander-in-Chief of the British Forces intended to serve in Germany under Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick; but he (the Duke) died of a fever in that year. The 5th Duke added the name of Churchill to his own. The 7th Duke was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland 1876-80. The 1st Duke was created in 1704 a Prince of the Holy Rom. Emp., and subsequently Prince of Mindelheim in Suabia; but we cannot ascertain that there was any "special remainder" to carry these titles any further than himself. The famous French song, "Malbrouk s'en va-t-en guerre" is stated, though not without contradiction, to relate to a legend of the time of the Crusades, and thus to have no connection with the above warrior Duke, as the resemblance in name might readily lead one to suppose.

CREATIONS. Irel.: Visc. Massereene and Bn. of Loughneagh, 1660; Bn. Oriel, 1790; Visc. Ferrard, 1797. U.K.: Bn. Oriel, 1821.—Sir Jno. Clotworthy (Kt.) was made 1st Visc. Massereene and was succeeded by his son-in-law Sir Jno. Skeffington, 5th Bt. The 5th Visc. was made Earl of Massereene, and that title was held successively by his three sons. The last of these left only a daughter, so that on his death the Earldom lapsed, but the titles of 1660 were open to heirs general (a very exceptional condition in the Irish Peerage) and thus admitted of a female succeeding; the daughter accordingly became Viscts. 9th in line, and her marriage, as stated below, brought about the union of the two lines. The Ferrard Viscty. and apparently the Irish Barony of Oriel were conferred (with remainder to male issue) upon Margaret Amelia Burgh, who married the Rt. Hon. Jno. Foster, Speaker of the Irish Parliament for a time, to whom eventually was awarded the U.K. Barony. Their son was the 2nd Visc. Ferrard, the Peer just referred to as having married the 9th Viscts. Massereene, and the issue of these succeeded his mother as 10th Visc. Massereene and his father as 3rd Visc. Ferrard. This Peer is summoned in the latter title only to elections of Irish Representative Peers, the claim of the Massereene Viscty. having never had occasion to be put forward. The line is now that of Ferrard on the male side, but the 2nd Visc. assumed the Massereene surname of Skeffington, which is now practically the only one in use.

Both the above claimants are gt. grandsons of the 3rd Earl, but the former through his 2nd son, and the latter through his 3rd, but as there would naturally appear to be no question as to which has the superior right, the conclusion seems unavoidable that there must be some important item in the background which prevents the matter being brought up for decision.

CREATIONS. Scot.: E. of Moray and Lord Abernethy and Strathearn, 1562 ; Ld. Doune, 1581 ; Ld. St. Colme, 1611. Gt. Br.: Bn. Stuart of Castle Stuart, 1796. "Lord Doune" is the usual courtesy-title of an eld. son.—There have been repeated Earldoms of Moray, dating originally from Celtic times. The 1st Earl of the present series was a son of King James V., Jas. Stewart, Prior of St. Andrews. (His charter of 1562 above was supplemented by others of 1564 and 1566, the last including heirs female ; but under Scottish law the precedence remains with the original grant.) He became Regent of Scotland, but was assassinated in 1570. His daughter married the 2nd Ld. Doune, and the husband became 2nd Earl in right of his wife. He too was assassinated, but the 1st Marq. of Huntly, who did the deed, had obtained a writ empowering him to "execute justice" on the accomplices in the Earl of Bothwell's raid on Holyrood House. The 1st Ld. Doune was Sir Jas. Stewart of Doune (whose sister married Robt. Crichton of Cluny and was mother of the "Admirable Crichton") ; the 2nd, as we have seen, became 2nd Earl of Moray. The 3rd Earl in 1621 resigned his titles into the King's hands and obtained a new charter of them. The Lordship of St. Colme was granted to a brother of the 2nd Earl. The 9th Earl received the British Barony. The Barony of Gray was recently included in this line through the daughter of the 11th Bn. Gray marrying the 9th Earl of Moray, their grandson coming to succeed as 14th Earl and 18th Bn. Upon his death without issue the titles separated again.

MOWBRAY, SEGRAVE, and STOURTON (pron. Môbray, Seegrave, Sturton), Baron. Charles Botolph Joseph Stourton, 24th Bn.

Mowbray, 25th Segrave, and 21st Stourton (Eng.), claims an ancient Earldom of Norfolk which had been supposed extinct; a D.L. for W. Rid., formerly Lieut. E. Yorks. Mil.: son of 23rd Bn. M.; b. May 23, 1867; suc. 1893 (C.); mar. (same year) Mary, dau. of Thos. A. Constable, Esq. Seat, Allerton Pk., Knaresborough, Yorks.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Ld. Mowbray, 1283; Ld. Segrave, same year; Bn. and Ld. Stourton, of Stourton, Wilts., 1448 (the oldest Barony by letters patent now extant). —The first nobles to hold the two oldest of these Baronies were Roger de Mowbray and Nicholas de Segrave, but the two lines became united by the marriage of the 4th Bn. Mowbray with the Bnss. 5th in the Segrave line (whose grandfather had in 1312 been created Earl of Norfolk, and whose mother was Countess and afterwards Life Duchess of the same), and their 2nd son, the 6th Ld. Mowbray and 7th Segrave, was made Earl of Nottingham and Earl and Duke of Norfolk. The Duke, as he now was, was charged by the Earl of Stafford and Hereford (not Duke of Hereford as has been stated) with imputing a murderous intent to King Richard II., and this charge he challenged the Earl to substantiate by single combat. The King forbade the duel and banished them both from the kingdom, when Norfolk died of the plague at Venice (Nicolas says "of grief"). His son, who succeeded, was refused the title of Duke, but retained the double Earldoms and Baronies. He was involved in the rebellion of Scrope, Archbp. of York, and arrested and beheaded without trial. There was thus no attainder, and his titles passed to his brother, to whom eventually the Dukedom was restored. They remained in this line till the death in 1475 of the 5th Duke (10th Ld. Mowbray), who left only a daughter, to whom the Baronies passed, whilst the higher honours became extinct. She was affianced to the brother of Edward V., who, with himself, was murdered in the Tower, the lady predeceasing. The Baronies now fell into abeyance between the male descendants of the daughters of the 11th Bn., who had respectively married the ancestors of the present lines of Norfolk and Berkeley. The abeyance was determined in favour of John, Lord Howard, to whom the Dukedom was restored, but who fell at Bosworth and was attainted, as stated under "Norfolk." The history of the two houses is now identical, until in 1777, on the death of the 9th Duke and 22nd Bn., the two Baronies fell again into abeyance, whilst the Dukedom passed from this line to the nearest male heir. It was a hundred years later before the abeyance of the Baronies was ended by their conference in 1878 upon the 20th Bn. Stourton. The 1st Peer in this last line was Sir Jno. Stourton (Kt.), a distinguished soldier and statesman, Treasurer of the Royal Household and M.P. for Wilts. and Dorset, and whose descendant now came into this line through the marriage of its 16th Bn. with Winifred, one of the co-heiresses of the Mowbray title. The 8th Bn. was hanged (by a silken cord) for the murder of a former steward of his father's. The 10th was heavily fined on suspicion of complicity in the Gunpowder Plot. It is maintained that the Mowbray Barony ought to rank as the Premier Barony of England, but the Roll of the Peers places that of De Ros before it, and it would be wrong for ourselves to express any opinion on the case. This latter Barony, together with those of Hastings, Segrave, and Le Despencer (now merged in the Falmouth Viscounty), was originally created by Sir Simon de Montfort on Dec. 24, 1264 (49 Henry III., the King being then held a prisoner). This creation, being the act of a "rebel," has been recently pronounced by the House of Lords to be invalid, and there is no record of any admittedly legal summons to Parliament prior to 1283 (11 Edward I.), when the Barony of Mowbray received its original creation, and those of De Ros and Segrave appear to have been confirmed by renewal (Hastings 1290, Le Despencer 1295). Thus the position of the De Ros and Mowbray Baronies presents itself to outsiders as one of equality, in which nicer data would be required to determine the pre-eminence. As to the Barony of Segrave (which, being merged in that of Mowbray, does not appear upon the Roll) the statement in 'Burke' makes it quite clear that it was started in 1264 and referred by the House to 1283.

 The 'Luck of Edenhall,' now temporarily deposited at the Bank of England, is stated to be a glass beaker of an extremely fine material and ornamented with various coloured devices; it is enclosed in a leather case bearing the monogram I H S, which suggests the idea that it had been used for sacramental purposes. It has only a legendary origin, and that is that a group of fairies were suddenly surprised one evening in the mansion grounds, and the cup was taken from them, upon which one of them gave forth the words—

If this glass do break or fall,
Farewell to the luck of Edenhall.

It has not been broken as Uhland represents.

 'Burke' appends to his notice of this line the curious origin of the family name. In the reign of James III. and during a conflict with the House of Douglas, an ancestor of this present family sought refuge in a smithy and disguised himself as one of the workers. Suspicion however was excited on the arrival of the pursuers, and in his agitation the fugitive struck a false blow, on which one of them rushed upon him, with the words, "Ye're nae smith." But he proved more of an adept at his legitimate calling, so with a hammer and a red-hot bar the smith and he stood on the defensive, rallied the King's followers, and put the pursuers to rout, thus winning from the monarch a grant of lands with the motto "Non arte sed marte." The inventor of the steam-hammer descends from the same ancestry.

NAPIER and ETTRICK, Baron. William John George Napier, 11th Bn. N. of Merchistoun (Scot.), sits as Bn. Ettrick (U.K.), a Bt. (Scot.); a D.L. for Co. Selkirk, has been Sec. to Legations at Stockholm and Tokio and three times Chargé d'Affaires at Brussels: son of 10th Bn.; b. Sept. 22, 1846; suc. 1898 (L.); mar., 1st, 1876, the late Harriet Blake Armstrong (d. 1897), dau. of Edwd. Lumb, Esq.; 2ndly, 1898, Grace, dau. of Jas. C. Burns, Esq., uncle of Bn. Inverclyde. Seat, Thirlestane, Selkirk, N.B.

Creations. Scot.: Bn. Napier of Merchistoun, 1627; a Bt. (of Thirlestane) 1666. U.K.: Bn. Ettrick, 1872.—The 1st Scottish Peer was Sir Archib. Napier (Kt.), who accompanied James VI. into England, being afterwards made a Judge of Session, a Scottish Privy Councillor, Baronet, and Baron. His father was John Napier, famous to mathematicians as inventor of the Napierian logarithms. The 5th in line was a Baroness, the succession being open to "heirs general whatsoever." Her daughter, who, on the death of her brother, became Mistress of Napier (see Introd., "Marriage of Peeresses"), married Sir Wm. Scott, 2nd Bt. of Thirlestane, but their son, the 6th Bn. and 3rd Bt., resumed the surname of Napier. The 1st Bn. was, a few weeks before his elevation to the Peerage, created Baronet of Napier; but on the passing of the Barony to a daughter the Baronetcy went to a collateral and became dormant, till in 1817 it was awarded to Wm. Milliken Napier as 8th Bt. The 10th Bn., a K.T. and P.C., who had been Envoy to the United States and Netherlands and Ambassador to Russia and Prussia, Governor of Madras, and Acting Viceroy of India, was given the U.K. Peerage. The ancestor of the house was pronounced to have "na peer," and this saying has given rise to the family name.

CREATIONS. U.K.: Bn. Nelson, 1801; Earl Nelson and Visc. Merton of Trafalgar, 1805. "Visc. Trafalgar" is the eld. son's courtesy-title.—"Of Nelson and the North" (still less of the South) there is little need to discourse at any length. After his victory of the Nile the gallant Admiral was first created Bn. N. (1798) and then Visc. N. (1801, after Copenhagen), with no special remainder; three months after this last he was a second time created Bn. N., but with special remainder to his father. In the same year he received the Sicilian honour of Duke of Bronte, for which see further under "Bridport," to which house it passed by marriage. His brother and successor was raised to the Earldom with the now subsisting Viscty.; he was succeeded by his nephew, whose surname of Bolton was exchanged for Nelson. Of the third great naval victory, which was fatal to its hero, it may be worth remarking that the correct pronunciation is as Byron gives it, Trafalgar', and not as we are in the habit of pronouncing the London Square in which his Column stands.

NEWBURGH, EARL OF. SIGISMONDO NICOLO VENANZIO GAIETANO FRANCESCO Giustiniani-Bandini, 8th Earl (Scot.); Prince Giustiniani-Bandini, &c. (q.v.): son of 4th Marq. Bandini and of Cecilia, 7th Ctss. of Newburgh; b. June 30, 1818; suc. as 5th Marq. 1850, made Prince 1863; naturalised to U.K. 1857; suc. as Earl 1877; assumed name of Giustiniani before his patronymic Bandini 1850; mar. 1848 the late Maria Sophia Angelica, dau. of Cavaliere Giuseppe M. Massani (she died 1898). Res., Palazzo Altieri, Rome.

CREATIONS. Scot.: E. of Newburgh, Visc. of Kynnaird, and Bn. Levingstone, 1660.—Sir Jas. Levingston, 2nd Bt., a staunch supporter of Charles II., was created Visc. Newburgh in 1647, but this title, together with the Baronetcy, expired at the death of his son. In 1660, however, the three titles above were conferred upon the original recipient with remainder to "heirs general;" thus the daughter of the 2nd Earl succeeded. Eventually, through the marriage of the 7th Countess with Marquess Bandini, the line became what it is now—distinctly foreign, and utterly dissociated from this country.

Creations. Eng.: E. of Arundel, feudal title, abt. 1155, confirmed 1433 (still by tenure only, as owner of Arundel Castle); Bn. Maltravers, 1330 by writ; D. of Norfolk and E. of Surrey, 1483; Bn. Fitzalan of Clun and Oswaldestre, 1627; E. of Norfolk, 1644 (it is a more ancient Earldom of 1312 which is claimed by Lord Mowbray, the later one remaining uncontested with the Duke).—It has been said, "Happy is the nation that has no history," and as the Norfolk Dukedom has had a very notable history, it follows that its career has been very far from a happy one. In fact, extinction, attainder, forfeiture, beheading, followed to an heir by pardon and restoration, have dogged its course for generations and centuries. Wm. de Albini is given by Nicolas as the 1st Earl of Arundel; the 7th and 9th Earls were attainted and beheaded (1326 and 1397), but the honours were restored. Jno. Maltravers, 1st Bn. of that title, was proclaimed a traitor in the year of his investiture, but restored some 22 years later. His grandson succeeded as 6th Earl of Arundel, and henceforth the two lines are associated. The 13th Earl was attainted, but the title was restored to the 14th, together with the Fitzalan Barony: later on he was created Earl of Norfolk. This last title, as noted above, had been previously created in 1312, the recipient being Thos. Plantagenet surnamed De Brotherton, 5th son of King Edward I., who was also the first to receive the title of Earl Marshal (there had been "Marshals" in the family before him), which continued in the line and was revived at or soon after each fresh creation. The Dukedom had its beginning in the house of Mowbray (q.v.), the 6th Bn. of that title being made Duke of Norfolk in 1397; but he was banished in the same year, and died either of the plague or of grief. His eldest son was beheaded, but the 2nd son had the dignity restored to him. The 5th Duke of this line left no male issue, so that the Dukedom became extinct, while the Mowbray and Segrave Baronies went into abeyance between daughters. Another extinct creation followed in the person of the infant brother of Edward V., who was murdered with him in the Tower. One of the above co-heiresses, however, married Sir Robt. Howard, and their son Sir Jno. Howard, who had distinguished himself in the French wars of Henry VI., was created 1st Duke of Norfolk of the present line in 1483, along with the titles of Hereditary Earl Marshal and Lord Admiral of England; he also received grants of land in Suffolk, Kent, Cambridge, Wilts., Somerset, and Cornwall, whilst a special provision awarded him £20 a year from the fee-farm at Ipswich "to enable him to keep up the dignity of his office of Earl Marshal." His strong Yorkist tendencies unfortunately led him to cast in his lot with the fortunes of Richard III. His friends expostulated, but in vain, for "Jockey," as they styled him, followed "Dickon" to Bosworth, and fell leading the van of his army. Of course Henry VII. promptly made all his titles a forfeiture, and his son, the Earl of Surrey, the victor of Flodden Field, was also attainted. He however was restored, and in 1514 newly created Duke of Norfolk, ranking as 2nd Duke. His successor was also attainted, but afterwards restored with the precedence of his father. There were two or three separate creations of an Earl of Surrey, two of them being awarded to the heirs of the 1st and 2nd Dukes; but they were followed by forfeitures, and he title became shortly merged in the Dukedom. Henry, Earl of Surrey, son of the 3rd Duke, whom Burke describes as "one of the brightest ornaments of the house of Howard, whose iniquitous execution was the last tyrannical act of Henry VIII.," held thus only courtesy-title. His father's life was only saved by the death of the tyrant himself, but the 4th Duke, who followed him to the block in 1572, was his grandson. This 4th Duke was attainted and beheaded under Elizabeth in 1572 for communication with Mary Queen of Scots. The feudal Earldom of Arundel was not affected by the attainder, and in 1660 Thos. Howard was restored to the Dukedom with the original precedence of the 1st Duke—i.e. 1483. His brother and successor (as 6th Duke) had already been created Earl of Norwich, Bn. Howard of Castle Rising, and Earl Marshal of England, this office not having been included at the restoration of the Dukedom in 1660. On the death of the 9th Duke in 1777 the Norwich Earldom and Howard Barony expired and the Mowbray and Segrave Baronies fell into their second abeyance, eventually passing to a separate line. The additional name of Fitzalan, which was that of the Earls of Arundel up to 1580, was assumed by the 14th Duke in 1842.

Hawick; Albury Pk., Guildford; Syon House, Brentford, Middx.; town res., 2 Grosvenor Pl., S.W.

CREATIONS. Eng.: A Bt. 1660. Gt. Br.: E. of Northumberland and Bn. Warkworth, 1749; D. of Northumberland and Earl Percy, 1766; Ld. Lovaine, Bn. of Alnwick, 1784; E. of Beverley, 1790. Some former titles of this house have passed to the Dukedom of Atholl, q.v.—Long previous to either of the above creations there were Lords Percy and Earls of Northumberland, the 1st Earl of this line (created 1377) being father of the renowned "Hotspur," for whom and the Battle of Chevy Chase, see under "Hamilton and Brandon." This same Earl with his son effected the dethronement of Richard II. and brought in the House of Lancaster under Henry IV.; but, being dissatisfied with the new monarch, he, with his son "Hotspur" and his brother the Earl of Worcester, attempted to transfer the crown to the Earl of March. "Hotspur" (Sir Henry Percy) fell at Battle Field, Shrewsbury, in 1403; Worcester was beheaded; and Northumberland himself fell in a later battle with the King at Bramham Moor. Both the 2nd and 3rd Earls fell fighting on the side of Henry VI., whilst the 4th was killed in a popular rising occasioned by his indiscreet form of announcement of the harsh refusal of Henry VII. to an obnoxious tax. The 6th Earl in the same line died without issue, and his brother, who would have succeeded, was attainted and executed. The Earl of Warwick was now made Duke of Northumberland by Edward VI., but he too was brought to the block on a charge of treason against Queen Mary by championing the claim of Lady Jane Grey. This had been a totally distinct creation to an equally distinct family, and the Dukedom thereby started proceeded no further; but four years later the Earldom was newly created and restored to the Percy line in the person of the son of the above 6th Earl's brother. He, however, was beheaded by Elizabeth for avowing the Pope's supremacy, whilst his brother and successor was committed to the Tower on a charge of plotting on behalf of Mary Queen of Scots, and he was there put out of the way by means of three bullets. The 9th Earl was imprisoned several years in the Tower on suspicion of complicity in the Gunpowder Plot, being also fined £30,000. Finally, the 11th Earl dying without male issue (we may note by the way the creation of a second Dukedom, awarded by Charles II. to one of his natural sons, but going no further), this older Earldom became extinct, though the daughter succeeded to the Percy Barony. Her eldest son was, in 1722, summoned to the House of Lords by this title, but it is now amongst those which have passed to the Dukedom of Atholl. This Bn. Percy was Algernon Seymour, who by inheritance became Duke of Somerset, and was further created Earl of Northumberland and Baron Warkworth. His son-in-law, Sir Hugh Smithson, Bt., was allowed by special remainder to succeed him in his Northern honours, and further advanced to the Dukedom and the Barony of Lovaine. He thereupon assumed the name of Percy, but it is to be noted that the ancient family of Smithson are the male ancestors of the present line of Peers. The 3rd Duke was Ambassador to France and Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; and the 4th, a K.G. and F.R.S., was an Admiral and created Bn. Prudhoe before succession. The Barony of Lovaine, though conferred upon the 1st Duke, was limited in remainder to his second son, but has eventually returned to the original Dukedom. The 2nd Bn. Lovaine was created Earl of Beverley, his son taking the courtesy-title of Lord Lovaine until his succession in 1830 as 2nd Earl. By this Earldom he sat in the House of Lords till 1865, when the death of his cousin the 4th Duke, without issue, brought him the higher Peerage and reunited the titles as above. Previously to this advance his son, the late 6th Duke, had held the same courtesy-title as himself, and sat as Lord Lovaine in the House of Commons; but on his father's elevation his own title became Earl Percy. His bro. Lord Henry H. M. Percy followed him in the same constituency for three years, and then the present Duke held the seat as Earl Percy until 1885.

His son, who also held distinguished Government appointments, had many years previously been given the title Bn. The 5th Earl was by Henry VI. made Earl of Wiltshire, a K.G., and Lord High Treasurer of England; but he was captured by the Yorkists and beheaded. The Earldom was restored by Edward IV. to his brother and heir, a nobleman stated to have been "complete master of all the languages of Europe," and who was sent as Ambassador to several Courts, but who died during a pilgrimage in the Holy Land. The 7th Earl was also attainted, but restored. The 8th, a remote cousin, who succeeded in 1515, had in 1527 to relinquish his title to his predecessor's son-in-law, who was also created Visc. Rochford and Earl of Wiltshire, and was father of Lord Rochford and Anne Boleyn, both beheaded. The dispossessed Earl was given the Ossory Earldom as a solace, and on the death of his rival without male issue was restored to his former title. The 9th Earl, who was made Visc. Thurles, was poisoned, together with his steward and sixteen servants, at a supper at Ely House, Holborn. The 10th, termed "The Black Earl" from his dark complexion, was made by Elizabeth Lord Treasurer of Ireland. The 12th, who became Lord Lieutenant of the same, was created Marquess and afterwards Duke of Ormonde, the latter title in the Peerage of both kingdoms, being also made Earl of Brecknock in England. He is known as "The Great Duke of Ormonde," but the 2nd Duke was equally distinguished as a military commander under both William III. and Anne; but under George I. he was impeached for high treason, attainted, and deprived of his English titles. He died in exile and his brother succeeded as 3rd Irish Duke, but died childless, whereupon all his titles expired; but the Irish Earldoms and Viscty. passed de jure to the heir male of the family, and at length (1791) were confirmed to the 17th holder of the title of Earl of Ormonde. The 19th Earl was awarded the re-created and existing Marquessate, as also the Imperial Barony. The Irish titles of E. of Carrick (Karrick, Karrik, or Karryke — 1315) and Bn. Arklow (1302) have been also ascribed to this Peerage, and Mr. Cokayne regards the former, in one or other of its forms, as probably correct and as having "lapsed unaccountably" (the branching off of the recognised Carrick Earldom may not improbably be the cause); but the Arklow Barony seems shadowy altogether. There have been repeated creations of a Butler Barony in this line (Eng. or U.K.), but the only one extant has passed to the Cowper Earldom — a daughter of the 1st Bn. Butler having married the 2nd Earl Cowper, to whose successor it reverted in 1871 upon removal of an attainder which had lasted from 1715. The Scottish Barony of Dingwall was also brought into this family by the marriage of the 1st Duke with Eliz. Preston, Bnss. in her own right; but that also passed to the Cowper line.

PERTH, Earl of. William Huntly Drummond, 15th Earl, 11th Visc. Strathallan (both Scot.), late Capt. 3rd Batt. Black Watch (Mil.), Chief of Clan Drummond: son of 10th Visc. Strathallan and a remote cousin of 14th Earl; b. Aug. 5, 1871; suc. to Viscty. 1893, to Earldom 1902; unmrrd. No fixed residence.

Creations. Scot.: Hered. Thane of Lennox and Hered. Steward of Menteith and Strathearn (dates unknown); Ld. Drummond of Cargill, 1488; E. of Perth and Ld. Drummond of Stobhall and Montifex, 1605 (remainder to heirs male whatsoever); Ld. Maderty 1609; Visc. Strathallan and Ld. Drummond of Cromlix, 1686. —The origin of the two earliest titles is quite obscure. Jno. Drummond, a P.C. and Constable of Stirling Castle, who had been employed on various embassies, was created 1st Ld. D. of Cargill. The 4th Ld. was made Earl of Perth, and the 4th Earl was awarded by James II., while in exile, the title of Duke of Perth, which title continued to be used till the death of the 6th titular Duke. By this time the Earldom had become dormant through an attainder, but the nominal succession went to a cousin, whose son was confirmed in the title as 11th Earl. On the death of this last in 1809 the Earldom passed to the line of Melfort (q.v.), and the two Earldoms remained united until 1902, when the decease of the venerable 14th Earl separated them again, on account of the difference in the terms of remainder—that of Melfort, which is open to female succession, passing to his daughter and only surviving child (who however does not assume it and leaves it dormant), whilst the Perth Earldom went to the nearest male relative, Visc. Strathallan, involving the absorption of his own Viscty. The title of Ld. Maderty was given to the Hon. Jas. Drummond, 2nd son of the above Ld. D. of Cargill, and the 4th Ld. M. was promoted to be Visc. Strathallan. He held a command in the Royalist Army in 1648, and afterwards joined the Marq. of Ormonde in the same cause in Ireland. He was taken prisoner at Worcester, but escaped to Scotland, and on the dispersion of his party there in 1654 he entered the army of Russia. The 4th Visc. was slain at Culloden, and attainder was pronounced against him in the following year. Owing, however, to a verbal inaccuracy in the bill, the title was still assumed, and under the 8th Peer it was legally restored.

CREATIONS. Eng. : Bn. Poulett, 1627 ; Earl Poulett and Visc. Hinton, 1706.—The 1st Bn. was Jno. Poulett, an active commander on the Royalist side, who had been knighted on shipboard by the Earl of Lindsey. The 4th Bn. was made a K.G. and P.C. and advanced to the Earldom. In regard to the recent contest, it was elicited before the Committee of Privileges in 1903 that the mother of the opposing claimant had lived as the mistress of a Capt. Granville, whose Christian names, William Turnour, she had given to the said claimant, having also stated to certain persons that he was the Captain's son, though to the Claimant himself she had asserted the contrary. The family from the first had never acknowledged him, the 5th Earl, the present Peer's grandfather, having in 1853 settled the estates upon "any son of William Henry Poulett by any woman that he might marry after the decease of his present wife." The romance attaching to his career, and especially his long appearance before the public as an organ-grinder, had evoked considerable interest in his case, and even sympathy ; so that its utter collapse, when brought to the test of legal evidence, was the occasion of a very natural surprise.

Clive (of Plassey), 1762.—The Irish Barony was conferred upon the famous Indian commander who visited with such condign punishment Suraja Dowlah, author of the atrocities of the "Black Hole." He stormed Calcutta, and afterwards, with only 3000 men, completely routed Dowlah at the head of 70,000. After this he became Governor of Calcutta and then overthrew the power of the Dutch in India. He continued to be M.P. for Shrewsbury after elevation to the Irish Peerage, but died in 1774 by his own hand. His son and successor received the British and U.K. titles. The earliest Peerages Bn. Herbert of Chirbury and Earl of Powis had been conferred upon Henry Arthur Herbert in 1743 and 1748 respectively. The 1st Earl of the present line married the daughter of the last Earl of the preceding, who was of the family of Herbert, and that surname his successor the 2nd Earl assumed by licence. Still earlier titles than any of the preceding were the Barony Powis of Powis Castle (1629) and the Marquessate of Powis (1687)—both extinct in 1748.

CREATIONS. Scot. : Visc. Drumlanrig and Bn. Douglas of Hawick and Tibbers, 1628 ; E. of Queensberry, 1633 ; a Bt. 1669 ; M. of Queensberry, 1682.—Sir Wm. Douglas, son of the 2nd Earl of Douglas, who fell at "Chevy Chace," as stated under "Hamilton, D." and "Mar," and himself a distinguished commander in the wars with England, received an undated charter of the Drumlanrig Barony. The 9th feudal Bn. Drumlanrig (a title starting before 1388), having entertained James VI. at the time of his accession to the English crown, obtained the Visctv. and then the Earldom, the feudal title disappearing. The 3rd Earl was made Marq. of Queensberry, and in the following year Duke of the same, both creations having a string of lesser titles attached to them. His successor, however, obtained a new patent under which the terms of remainder were altered, the result being that the Dukedom, with all the other titles not cited above, became merged, on the death of the 4th Duke, in the Dukedom of Buccleuch. The 7th Marquess was a notable Bohemian, whilst the 8th obtained unenviable distinction as a champion of "free thought."

READ BARONETCY (Eng. 1641 in name of Reade), extinct 1711, but was assumed in Australia as 9th Bt. by the late Jas. Cecil Read and is possibly persisted in by his son William Vero (of Arawa, Waverley, N.S.W.). As usual in such cases, the claim is based upon some late-discovered unregistered relative; but no authority whatever makes the slightest mention of such line, and our only information is derived from an Australian newspaper, which gravely charges us all with resting in gross ignorance. It would appear that there are a whole covey of pretenders in the Colony, for in January 1904 there was a report of the death of "Sir Jas. Hamilton, Bt.;" in the following April appeared that of a soi-disant Knight, "Sir H. D. C. Chapelle;" and only a little later that of a "Lady Dry," widow of a fictitious Tasmanian Knight. A fine quarter for impostors, the Antipodes!

CREATIONS. Scot.: A Bt. 1627; Bn. Reay, 1628 (same title U.K. 1881).—Sir Donald Mackay (Kt.) was created a Baronet of Scotland and in the following year a Baron. He had been an active soldier on the Royal side during the Civil War. The 2nd son of the 2nd Bn. served abroad in the Scottish Brigade, and married and settled in Holland, his descendants thus becoming practically Dutch. On the failure of the elder line the succession naturally passed to these last, and Æneas, Bn. Mackay d'Ophemert in Holland, inherited as 10th Bn. Reay.

The line has thus been partially British all along, but the procedure of naturalisation was still rendered necessary.

Robinson, a cousin of the 5th Bt., a distinguished diplomatist and one of the Secretaries of State, was raised to the Peerage as Bn. Grantham. A Marquessate of De Grey had been created in 1740, and upon its failure the eldest daughter of the Marchss. who was its 2nd and last holder was made Countess de Grey. Her nephew and heir had already many years succeeded as 3rd Bn. Grantham before by her decease the Earldom was brought by special remainder into this line. Earl de Grey's younger brother Fredk. John was created Visc. Goderich and Earl of Ripon; his son, the present Peer, succeeded his father in these titles, then his uncle as Earl de Grey, and ultimately was raised to the Marquessate of Ripon. The above extinct De Grey Marquessate had carried with it a Barony of Lucas, and this passed by regular succession to the daughter who was created Countess; but by the marriage of her successor's (Earl de Grey's) daughter to the 6th Earl Cowper, whilst her father had left no male issue, the Barony went with that daughter into this latter line, but the Earldom, which was limited to the heirs male of the above Countess and then those of her sister, the wife of the 2nd Bn. Grantham, passed, by the latter descent, to the present Peer, his predecessor's nephew as above.

He obtained a charter allowing him to nominate his successor, and his will stipulated that whoever succeeded him should marry one of the daughters of his deceased son Ld. Kerr. This contract was carried out by his grandson the Hn. Sir Wm. Drummond, son of his eldest daughter, who had married the 2nd Earl of Perth; he accordingly succeeded as 2nd Earl of Roxburghe and assumed his predecessor's surname of Ker. The 3rd Earl was lost in the ship 'Gloucester' off the east coast in 1682, when accompanying the Duke of York (who was saved, and was afterwards King James II.) on his return to Scotland. The 5th Earl obtained the Dukedom. The 3rd Duke was a famous collector of books. The 2nd son of the 2nd Earl had succeeded to the now extinct Barony of Bellenden, and the 7th Bn. became 4th Duke; but at his death the minor title came to an end and the Dukedom lay dormant for seven years. Another cousin of the above 1st Earl's daughter, the Hon. Margaret Ker, married Sir James Innes, 3rd Bt., and their great grandson, the 6th Bt., became 5th Duke. He had adopted the surname of Innes-Norcliffe on account of his wife's succession to an estate, but on her death he substituted the present name of Innes-Ker. His son the 6th Duke obtained the U.K. Earldom.

CREATION. U.K.: Earl Russell and Visc. Amberley, 1861.—The 1st Earl, who was 3rd son of the 6th Duke of Bedford, will long be affectionately remembered as Lord John Russell, and, it need not be stated, was one of the most eminent statesmen of the 19th century. His successor's unhappy marriage proceedings may be thus summed up. In 1890 he allied himself with Mabel Edith, daughter of Sir Claude E. Scott, 4th Bt. of Lytchett Minster, who in 1891 and again shortly afterwards sued him unsuccessfully in the Divorce Court. But in 1900 he formed, or had formed, an acquaintance with a married woman named Marion or Mollie Somerville (née Cooke), and in America they each obtained a divorce from their respective wife and husband, and then went through the form of a marriage with each other according to the laws of the State of Nevada. On returning to England they were presently divorced from their older ties by the more binding process of British law, the Earl agreeing to pay £1500 damages to Mr. Somerville. In July of 1901 he was arraigned before the House of Lords for bigamy and sentenced to three months' imprisonment; which term he underwent and was remarried soon after liberation.

RUTHVEN (pron. Rivven, formerly spelt Rythven), Baron. Walter James Hore-Ruthven, 9th Bn. (Scot.), a D.L. for Perthsh., formerly Capt. Rifle Brigade (served in Crimea, Mutiny, and Abyssinia), now Maj. 6th (late 9th) Vol. Batt. of same: grandson of 8th Bnss. and son of William Hore-Ruthven, Esq.; b. Creation. Scot.: Ld. Ruthven, 1651. — Sir Thos. Ruthven (Kt.) was the 1st Bn. of the present line, the titles of Ld. Ruthven (1467) and Earl of Gowrie (1581) having been forfeited by attainder in 1600, in consequence of the plot known as the Gowrie Conspiracy: the 1st Ld. R. of the new line was grandson of the 2nd Ld. of the former one. The original patent of this Peerage having been destroyed by fire, a question has been raised as to whether it allowed of descent through a female, and 'Debrett' accordingly treats the present Bn. as a claimant only, he having had three Baronesses among his predecessors. But 'Burke' furnishes a series of facts which show that the succession has never hitherto been considered open to question, whilst the successive Peers have been summoned as Barons or Baronesses to every coronation from that of George II. onwards.

Roos (see "De Ros," which is the same Peerage), was created 1st Earl of Rutland, the two titles running together until the death of the 3rd Earl, when the Barony went to his daughter who married the Earl of Exeter, but their son was succeeded in the Barony by the 6th Earl of Rutland, thus bringing it back to the former line, the latter Earldom having devolved upon the brother of the 3rd Earl, and so proceeded till, on the death of the 6th Earl just mentioned, it passed with his daughter (his only child) to the line of the Dukes of Buckingham, the 1st of whom she married. On the death of the 2nd Duke it fell into abeyance, out of which it was called in the reign of George III. in favour of Charlotte, wife of Lord Henry FitzGerald, whose descendant is the present Lord de Ros. The 9th Earl was made Bn. Manners of Haddon and afterwards elevated to the Dukedom.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. St. John of Bletso, 1559; a Bt. 1660.—Oliver St John, 8th Bn. Beauchamp of Bletso (abeyant Peerage), was the first to obtain this Barony. That of Beauchamp had been conferred, by Edward III., upon Roger de Beauchamp, a distinguished soldier and Chamberlain of the Household. Sir H. Nicolas mentions no fewer than eight Baronies bearing the title of Beauchamp, and that of Beauchamp of Bletso was created by writ in 1363, but remained dormant from the above Roger's death in the absence of any further summons. Upon the creation by patent of the St. John Barony the other title was revived, but through female inheritance it passed successively from this line to the Earls of Nottingham and Peterborough and the Duke of Gordon, till it fell into abeyance in 1836 between the four surviving sisters of the 5th Duke and the then heir of the Duke of Manchester. The 2nd Bn. St. John was one of the Judges in the trial of Mary Queen of Scots. The 4th was made Earl of Bolingbroke, but that title expired with the 3rd Earl. The existing Bolingbroke Viscty., however, starts from the same ancestry as this. The form "Bletso" is that of the Roll of the Peers and of 'Debrett' and Mr. Cokayne; elsewhere it is given as "Bletsoe" or "Bletsho."

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. Cecil, 1603; Visc. Cranborne, 1604; E. of Salisbury, 1605. Gt. Br.: M. of Salisbury, 1789.—There were Earls of Salisbury from the time of Stephen, but the title underwent several temporary extinctions. The 3rd Earl in the second line was beheaded by the rabble at Cirencester in 1400. Richd. Nevill, the 1st in the next line, was attainted and beheaded. His successor, Earl also of Warwick, was slain at Barnet in 1471. Both Earldoms were next conferred upon the Duke of Clarence, the murdered brother of Edward IV. Then the Duke of Gloucester, afterwards King Richard III., was made Earl of Salisbury. After him Margaret, daughter of the Duke of Clarence, was Countess, but she too was attainted and beheaded. This brings us to the commencement of the present line, which was created simultaneously with that of Exeter. The Rt. Hon. Sir Robt. Cecil, younger son of Wm. Cecil, Ld. Burghley, and Secretary of State under Elizabeth, was awarded the above three English titles shortly after King James's accession. The 7th Earl, an F.R.S. and Lord Chamberlain to Geo. III., was raised to the Marquessate. The 2nd Marq. was Lord Lieutenant of Middlesex and Lord President of the Council. The late 3rd Marquess, K.G. and G.C.V.O., was thrice Prime Minister and four times Secretary for Foreign Affairs. — The family name is conventionally Cecil only, that of Gascoyne having been added by the 2nd Marquess on his marriage with a lady of that surname.

CREATION. U.K.: Bn. Savile, 1888.—The 1st Bn. was the Rt. Hon. Sir Jno. Savile, G.C.B., who had been Minister Plenipotentiary to several Continental Courts. His original name was Savile-Lumley, which he exchanged 1887 for Savile, the present Peer in 1898 prefixing the surname which had formerly stood second. There had existed a much earlier Barony and Viscty. of Savile, and the 2nd Bn. was created Earl of Sussex in 1644; but at his death in 1671 all his honours expired, and, though the name was Savile, no mention is made in either 'Burke' or 'Lodge' of any connection with the present house.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. Saye and Sele, 1447 by writ, 1603 by patent (precedence governed by latter).—Sir James Fiennes, Warden of the Cinque Ports and Lord Treasurer of England, was created 1st Bn.; subsequently, however, he was imprisoned in the Tower, whence he was riotously dragged by Jack Cade's mob and beheaded in Cheapside. His successor was made Vice-Adm. of England under the great Earl of Warwick, but afterwards he fled to Flanders with Edward IV., and was ultimately slain at the Battle of Barnet. The next four Barons were never summoned to Parliament, but the 7th received a new Barony by letters-patent. The 8th Bn. (2nd by patent, but the numbering is reckoned from the 1st Bn. by writ) was distinguished as a leader on the side of the Parliament against King Charles, but though he remained "rebelliously disposed" he died in 1662 without having suffered any punishment from that Monarch's son. He was created Visc. Saye and Sele; but at the death of his son the 2nd Visc. in 1674 the Baronies went into abeyance, the one by writ being regarded as governing the succession; but the Viscty. held on till the death of its 6th possessor in 1781. At this date the abeyance was determined in favour of Thos. Twisleton, a Major-General in the Army, who thereupon succeeded as 13th Bn. (the numbering of 'Burke,' derived retrospectively from the date, 1715, when the abeyance was actually terminated, though three successors de jure never assumed the title). The next Peer assumed the name of Fiennes (also Eardley, which went no further than his successor), and the 16th (né Twisleton), who was Canon Residentiary of Hereford Cathedral, adopted the addition of Wykeham-Fiennes. He was 20th in descent from Geoffrey, Ld. Saye, one of the 25 Barons who wrung from the King the observance of Magna Charta.—The family name is conventionally Fiennes only, though the full form occurs in the 'Army List.'

The Irish Viscty. was conferred upon Sir Richd. Lumley (Kt.), a great grandson of the previous 5th Bn. and 2nd cousin of the 7th, and who was afterwards a Commander under Prince Rupert. His successor, who held chief command at Sedgemoor in 1685, when the Duke of Monmouth was defeated, obtained the three English titles of the later creation.  The above two Baronetcies were created the one in the name of Scott and the other of Bateman, but the latter was made open to succession of male descendants of the 1st Bt.'s daughters. Thus the 3rd Bt. in the Gt. Barr line came at his birth to be inheritor of the Baronetcy of Sir Hugh Bateman, 1st Bt. of Hartington, who was his maternal grandfather. This explains the double name "Bateman-Scott," or "Bateman and Scott."

Creations. Scot.: E. of Seafield, Visc. Reidhaven, and Ld. Ogilvy of Deskford and Cullen, 1701; a Bt. 1625. U.K.: Bn. Strathspey, 1884.—Sir Walter Ogilvie (Kt.) was in 1616 created Ld. Ogilvie, and his son James was in 1638 and 1641 advanced to be Earl of Findlater. The Lordship and 1st Earldom expired; but the 1641 Earldom lasted till the death of the 7th in its line. James, 4th Earl of Findlater, received two creations of Peerage, the former including a Viscty. of Seafield which lapsed concurrently with the Findlater Earldom. At the second creation he was awarded the above three Scottish titles, this time with remainder to heirs general. Accordingly on the death of the above 7th Earl (4th of Seafield) the titles of 1701 passed to a cousin, Sir Lewis Alex. Grant, 8th Bt., who forthwith assumed the additional name of Ogilvie and became 5th Earl of Seafield. The 9th Earl was made Bn. Strathspey, a title previously granted to the 7th, but lapsing on the death of his successor. 'Burke' now adopts "Ogilvie-Grant" as the surname in place of his former "Grant-Ogilvie." Conventionally it is Grant only, and hence the family have evidently been indifferent as to the compound order.

Cooper, 1672.—The 1st Bn. and afterwards Earl was Sir Anthony Ashley Cooper, 2nd Bt., a prominent statesman who during the Stuart trouble sided first with the King, then with the Parliament, and ultimately with the Restoration. He was a member of the "Cabal" Ministry and became Lord High Chancellor, but it is to his influence that the nation is indebted for the Habeas Corpus Act, which he carried through the two Houses with great difficulty; he was also the first to introduce a Bill for rendering the Judges independent of the Crown. The 3rd Earl was distinguished in literature and philosophy; the 7th as one of the most noted philanthropists of the 19th century. The surname is conventionally Ashley only.

Rolls both of Eng. and Irel., but see INTROD. under "Earl;" Hered. Lord High Steward of Ireland and High Steward of the Borough of Stafford, formerly Lieut. Staffordsh. Yeom. : son of 19th E. ; b. Nov. 13, 1860 ; suc. 1877 (C.) ; mar. 1882 Ellen Mary, dau. of Chas. R. Palmer-Morewood, Esq., and divorced wife of Alf. E. M. Mundy, Esq. Seats, Ingestre Hall, Stafford ; Alton Towers, Stoke-upon-Trent ; town res., 12A George St., Hanover Sq., W.

CREATIONS. Eng.: E. of Shrewsbury, 1442. Gt. Br.: Bn. Talbot, 1733 ; Earl Talbot and Visc. Ingestre, 1784. Irel.: E. of Waterford, 1446.—A Barony of Talbot by writ commenced in 1331 (and that out of a feudal Barony dating from the time of Henry I.), and this Peerage continued until it is now for the second time in abeyance. Jno. Talbot, 7th Bn. (a Bnss. was 6th in line), a great Commander in the French wars, termed by Shakespeare "the great Alcides of the field," though once defeated and taken prisoner by Joan of Arc, was created Earl of Shrewsbury and of Waterford, being twice made Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. He was slain in his 80th year after having been victorious in forty fights ; and the English dominion in France practically expired with him. The 2nd Earl fell at Northampton on the Lancastrian side. The 6th Earl became 4th husband of the proud and unscrupulous woman Elizabeth, daughter of John Hardwick. The 11th Earl died from a wound received in a duel with the 2nd Duke of Buckingham. The 12th was created Duke of Shrewsbury (1694) for his services in transferring the crown to William of Orange (he having embraced the Protestant religion in place of that of his ancestors) : he was afterwards influential in securing the succession of George I. But he left no issue and the Dukedom expired. His cousin and successor returned to the older religion and was in holy orders. The above Barony of 1331, after its first abeyance, passed by marriage into the Norfolk Dukedom, in which it remained until the death of the 9th Duke in 1777. Meantime in 1733 there had been created the still existing Barony of Talbot (of Hensol), which was conferred upon Chas. Talbot, son of the militant Bp. of Durham (see INTROD., "Bishops") and a descendant of one of the younger sons of the 2nd Earl, himself being successively M.P. for Tregony and Durham, a P.C., and now made Lord Chancellor. His son and successor, Lord Steward of the Household, was created Earl Talbot. The elder Shrewsbury line became extinct with the 17th Earl in 1856, so that the succession then passed to the 3rd Earl Talbot, who became 18th Earl of Shrewsbury and of Waterford. The additional surname Chetwynd was assumed by the 1st Earl Talbot, but it is generally ignored in use except in legal documents.

Creation. Scot.: Ld. Sinclair, 1489.—There appear to have been two earlier Lords of Parliament bearing this title, but of distinct families. The 1st Ld. fully recognised was Henry Sinclair, grandson of an Earl of Caithness, but 'Burke' now regards that Earl himself (Earl also of Orkney) as presumably the 1st Ld., such title being given him in several writs, as it is also given to his next successor, thus bringing the above Henry (who eventually was killed at Flodden Field) to the position of 3rd Ld. The 9th Ld. had an only daughter, styled Mistress of Sinclair, upon whose sons he made a settlement of the succession. The 10th Ld. changed the form of the family name to St. Clair. He died in 1723, and the title became dormant on account of his son having been attainted for engaging in the rebellion of 1715. In 1782 the House of Lords admitted the claims to succession of Charles St. Clair, who was a member of another branch of the family, but coming within the scope of "heirs general:" their founder is given as Sir Wm. St. Clair of Herdmanston, a companion-in-arms of King Robert Bruce.

 There is an indistinct account of an earlier Baronetcy of this line created in 1631, which date is to be found in some of the 'Baronetages,' though they only commence counting the Baronets from 1704. In 'Foster' (1881) the entire line is relegated to his "Chaos," with the statement that an ancestor was "said to have been created a Baronet of Nova Scotia Jan. 2, 1631, by patent not registered, to the heirs male of his body," in which case "the title expired in the person of the 1st Bt." But 'Burke' gives Oct. 12, 1704, as the date of a new creation free from any doubt whatever, and supplies the names and dates of all the six Bts. who have followed the 1st. Note that the three lines of Sinclair Baronets are all of Caithness-shire, and that the Earl of Caithness bears the same surname.

Mackinnon, Esq. Seats, Maiden Bradley House, Bath; Berry Pomeroy, Totnes, Devon; Burton Hall, Loughborough, Leic.; town res., 35 Grosvenor Sq., W.

CREATIONS. Eng.: D. of Somerset and Bn. Seymour, 1547 (Barony one day bef. Dukedom); a Bt. 1611.—Sir Edwd. Seymour, brother of Jane Seymour and Kt. of the Bath, who became 1st Duke, was a great favourite with Henry VIII., who appointed him Protector of his son Edward VI. (the Duke's nephew). He was also made Earl Marshal and Lord Great Chamberlain, both for life only. A grandson was the first to receive the Baronetcy. The Protector, however, was brought to the block in 1552 through an outrageous usurpation of authority on the part of some leading nobles abetted by the Roman Catholics His titles were thus forfeited, but one of his sons was made Earl of Hertford and Bn. Beauchamp. This nobleman married Catherine, sister of Lady Jane Grey, and her being of royal descent rendered the union criminal in law; both of them were accordingly sent to the Tower, the Earl remaining there for nine years and his wife dying. His grandson succeeded him and was in 1640 created Marq. of Hertford, and in 1660 the Dukedom and Seymour Barony were restored with the original precedence. He unhappily was guilty of a like indiscretion to that of his grandfather, for he secretly married James I.'s 1st cousin, Lady Arabella Stuart, and had in consequence to flee the country, whilst his wife died in the Tower. The Marquessate expired with the 4th Duke, but the Earldom and the titles of 1547 went to a cousin, who was shot in Italy by the husband of a lady to whom he had been offensive. The 6th Peer, who was known as "The Proud Duke," married Lady Eliz. Percy, daughter of the last Earl of Northumberland distinguished as Mistress of the Robes to Queen Anne. The 7th Duke was given the lapsed Earldom just named, but both that and the Hertford Earldom, with some other honours, lapsed at his decease, the Dukedom once more going to a collateral. This leading title, the second in rank in the Peerage of England, had been originally created in 1443, and was repeatedly extinct or forfeited before 1547, the 2nd Duke having been beheaded in 1463 when taken in arms against Edward IV. at Hexham. The surname was long corrupted into Seymour, but the orig. St. Maur was restored by the 13th Duke.

CREATIONS. Eng.: A Bt. 1621; Bn. Stafford, 1640.—There were eight Bns. Stafford by tenure, and after these there was in 1298 created a Stafford Barony by writ, the 2nd Bn. being made Earl of Stafford (Co.), and the Peerage lasting till 1521, when the 9th Bn. and 8th Earl, who was also 3rd Duke of Buckingham, was beheaded. The Barony was newly created in 1547, when Henry Stafford, son and heir of his beheaded predecessor, was the recipient. This line lasted till about 1640, and was then immediately restarted, Sir Wm. Howard, Kt. of the Bath, a younger son of the Earl of Arundel and a descendant of the last Duke of Buckingham, being made Bn. and Visc. Stafford. He was attainted in 1678 and beheaded in 1680, but in 1688 his widow was made a Countess for life, and her son created an Earl, this last title continuing till 1762. The title of Stafford was now dormant for over 60 years, but a resolution of the House of Lords in 1824 reversed the attainder of 1678 and awarded the title of 8th Bn. to Sir Geo. W. Stafford-Jerningham, 7th Bt., as heir general of the Howard line. The terms of remainder as given by Nicolas are, "to the heirs male of their bodies, failing which to the heirs [female] of their bodies." The numbering is reckoned from 1547, as the extinction in 1640 was immediately followed by recommencement. It may be added that in 1461 a Humphry Stafford was created a Baron, but beheaded eight years afterwards.

Both the 2nd and 3rd Earls were summoned to the Lords in their fathers' Baronies, having previously sat in the Commons: the 3rd Earl was Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs and for India. Of earlier holders of the Earldom the first was Thos. Wentworth, who was impeached and beheaded in 1641. His son had the honours restored to him in 1662, but he died childless in 1695. The title was again revived in 1711 and conferred upon the 3rd Bn. Raby, who was a great-nephew of the 1st Earl; and under this creation it was held by three Peers and expired in 1799.

(Mil.),: son of 18th E.; b. Sept. 13, 1877; suc. 1898 (L.U.); unmrrd. Seat, Charlton Pk., Malmesbury, Wilts.

CREATIONS. Eng.: E. of Suffolk, 1603; Visc. Andover and Bn. Howard of Charlton, 1622; E. of Berkshire, 1626. —Lord Thos. Howard, son of the attainted 4th Duke of Norfolk (beheaded 1572), was created Earl of Suffolk: he had been a distinguished naval officer under Elizabeth and was specially vigilant in discovering the Gunpowder Plot; later on he was appointed Chancellor of Cambridge University and Lord High Treasurer of England. Previously to the Earldom he had received the Barony of Howard de Walden, but that Barony fell into abeyance on the death of the 3rd Earl and ultimately was revived in a different branch of the family. The 1st Earl's 2nd son was created Visc. Andover and afterwards Earl of Berkshire. The 4th Earl of the latter title succeeded as 11th Earl of Suffolk (the tenures of title in this line having averaged much shorter than those of the other owing to a brother or uncle having succeeded in four instances). Bromer Earldoms of Suffolk had existed, and one of them in 1448 rose to be a Dukedom: the 3rd Duke was beheaded in 1513 and a 4th created a year after; the 7th and last was beheaded in 1554. There had also been one Earl of Berkshire previous to the above creation, but this lasted only 1620-3.

Strathnaver, 1228.—The Scottish Earldom is said to have existed in 1057; but William, styled the 1st Earl, was given the title in 1228 for his services in suppressing an insurrection. The 11th Earl was succeeded by his sister. The 12th (rather 13th, if the Countess is reckoned) was poisoned by his uncle's widow, who wanted the title for her son; but his own son escaped by accidental detention from the poisoned meal, and the perpetrator was sentenced to death, but preferred suicide in prison. The Countess who was 21st in line married the 2nd Marq. of Stafford, who long afterwards was created 1st Duke (in 1833). The 1st Bn. Gower was Sir Jno. Leveson-Gower, 5th Bt., who had married a daughter of the 1st Duke of Rutland. His successor was raised to the Earldom, the 2nd Earl to the Marquessate, and the 2nd Marq. to the Dukedom. It was the 2nd Duke who assumed the additional name of Sutherland.

Creations. Irel.: Visc. Taaffe and Bn. of Ballymote, 1628. Holy Rom. Emp. (Austro-Germ.): A Count, 1784.—Sir John Taaffe (Kt.), son of Sir Wm. Taaffe (who had distinguished himself in putting down an Irish rebellion in 1597, as also in repulsing a Spanish invasion), was awarded these Irish Peerages. The 2nd Visc., who was made Earl of Carlingford, had been a zealous supporter of the Royal cause during the Civil War, and in consequence his estates were sequestered, bringing about the Continental residence of the family. The 3rd Earl, who was Chamberlain to the Emperor Ferdinand, a Marshal of the Empire and Councillor of State, was given the Holy Roman Countship. The Earldom lapsed on the death of the 4th Earl (5th Visc.) in 1783. The 6th Visc., who, being a collateral, obtained the Countship only by new creation as a reward for his services, defeated the Turks at the Siege of Belgrade. The 4th Count (9th Visc.) was Governor of Styria and Galicia and President of the Supreme Court of Appeal at Vienna. This series of foreign associations led to a questioning by the House of Lords as to the next Visct.'s status as a British subject; but this was recognised by the Committee of Privileges in 1860. The 11th Visc. was Prime Minister of Austria 1879-93.

CREATION. U.K.: Bn. Tennyson, 1884.—Ralph Tennyson, who died in 1735, was a prominent supporter of King William III. His son Michael settled at Preston in Yorkshire and Stainton in Lincolnshire, and married Elizabeth Clayton of Grimsby, a descendant of the 1st E. of Scarsdale, who was also Bn. Deincourt (or D'Eyncourt) of Sutton—both titles extinct from 1736 (the Barony of Scarsdale, which happens singularly to be connected with the family of the still greater poet Byron—see "Lovelace"—being a totally distinct Peerage). Their son George Tennyson, of Bayons Manor and Usselby House, both in Lincolnshire, was grandfather of the Poet, and had, besides daughters, two sons who became respectively the Rev. Geo. Clayton Tennyson, LL.D., and the Rt. Hon. Chas. Tennyson-d'Eyncourt, F.R.S., M.P. The former settled down as Rector of Somersby (distinct from Somerby), a minute village in the Lincolnshire wolds, near Spilsby. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Rev. Stephen Ffytche, and had by her a family of eight sons and four daughters, of whom the 1st son died in infancy, the 2nd (Frederick) lived to be 92 years of age, and the 3rd was known as the Rev. Charles Tennyson-Turner. The 4th was Alfred, 1st Bn. Tennyson, D.C.L., F.R.S., Poet Laureate 1850-92: b. at Somersby Aug. 6, 1809; d. at Haslemere, Oct. 6, 1892. His father died in 1831, but his grandfather survived till 1835, about which time the family left Lincolnshire and were located first at Beech Hill House, High Beech, Epping Forest. Alfred Tennyson in 1850 married, at Shiplake, Oxfordshire, Emily (the late Dowager Lady Tennyson, who died 1896), dau. of Hy. Sellwood, Esq. (of Horncastle, but sprung from a Berkshire family), and niece of Sir John Franklin. A year or two previously he had gone to reside at Chapel House (afterwards Holyrood House, and now, we believe, again renamed), Montpelier Row, Twickenham, where the present Peer was born, and which continued to be one of the family residences until 1853, when he removed to his seat at the foot of Farringford Hill in the Isle of Wight. The seat at Haslemere was acquired in 1869.

CREATION. Irel.: Bn. Trimlestown, 1461. (The 16th Bn. spelt the title "Trimleston," and that is the form in the Irish Roll, but the present Peer restored the form here given.)—Sir Robt. Barnewall was created 1st Bn. by Edward IV. His successor had to receive a pardon for participation in the plot of Lambert Simnel. The 3rd Bn. was Lord High Chancellor of Ireland. On the death of the 16th Peer in 1879 the title was dormant till 1891, when it was claimed by a remote cousin who died the same year, before his right had been established: this process had consequently to be undertaken by his brother the present Baron. In 1634 there was a dispute as to precedence between the 7th Bn. and the 9th Bn. Dunsany, and it was then decided in favour of the former. In 1893, when the present Peer established his right, the order was reversed; but still later a new Roll was made up with "Trimleston" restored to its former position.

CREATIONS. Irel.: A Bt. 1620; Visc. of Valentia, 1622 (N.S.): Bn. Mountnorris, 1629.—Sir Fras. Annesley (Kt.), a P.C. and Secretary of State in the Irish Government, was created a Baronet (the second person in Ireland to obtain that title) and afterwards made Bn. Mountnorris. The Viscounty was a reversionary grant to fall to Sir Francis on the death of the then Visc., who was without an heir (Sir Henry Power, cr. Visc. 1622, d. 1642); the Mountnorris Barony was valid at once. The 2nd Visc. was made Earl of Anglesey and Bn. Annesley in the English Peerage, and these titles descended, nominally at least, to the 6th Earl, who was also 5th Bn. Altham, a title conferred on the 1st Earl's 2nd son. But the English House of Lords refused to admit this 6th Earl's eldest son, apparently from objection to his father, who was only a collateral. He, however, retained the Irish honours and had that of Earl of Mountnorris added to them—an Earldom that went no further than his only surviving son. The Viscty. and the Mountnorris Barony now passed again to a collateral, the grandfather and predecessor of the present Peer.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. Brooke, 1621. Gt. Br.: Earl Brooke, 1746; E. of Warwick, 1759.—The Rt. Hon. Sir Fulke Greville, a Kt. of the Bath and Chancellor of the Exchequer, was created 1st Bn. Brooke; he was descended on the female side from the brother of Wm. de Beauchamp, 10th Earl of Warwick (died 1298) in the original line. The 2nd Bn. was a General in the Parliamentary Army at Edgehill and in the Siege of Lichfield, during the latter of which he was killed by a musket-ball. The 4th Bn. was one of the Commissioners who invited Charles II. to return. The 8th Bn. was promoted to be Earl Brooke; and later, when a pre-existing Earldom of Warwick had become extinct, that title was added to his previous one. There had been Earls of Warwick from the time of William II., and the extinctions, forfeitures, and beheadings which have followed them, make the title a rival in tragedy with the Norfolk Dukedom. These concomitants, however, have been happily absent from the present line of descent. The 13th Earl of the original line (brother-in-law of the famous "King-maker," who in 1450 was created Earl for life) was promoted to be Duke of Warwick and crowned "King of the Isle of Wight" by Henry VI.'s own hand. These latter honours went no further than himself, and his sister's husband, who received the Earldom by a fresh creation, was slain at Barnet in 1471. Edward IV.'s brother, the Duke of Clarence, was the next recipient of the title, but he was attainted and murdered, his three successors being all beheaded. The second of the three who thus suffered was Margaret, Countess of Salisbury and Warwick; whilst the third, who was previously Visc. L'Isle, was created Duke of Northumberland two years before his execution. His son was restored to the Earldom, but died childless in 1589, when the title remained extinct till 1618. A new series of eight Earls now followed, and upon the lapsing of their line in 1759 that of the present Earl succeeded as stated above. "Earl Brooke," being the older, is the leading title upon the Roll.

CREATIONS. Irel.: Bn. La Poer, 1375 by writ; Visc. Tyrone and Bn. Beresford, 1720; E. of Tyrone, 1746; M. of Waterford, 1789; a Bt. 1665. Gt. Br.: Bn. Tyrone, 1785.—'Burke' gives us the precise date of creation of the original Barony, but does not give the name of its first holder, so that it appears doubtful whether he is satisfied of its existence; Bn. le Power, however (a title under attainder from about 1700, and the heir to which is E. de P. de la Poer, Esq.), he gives us as a descendant of Robt. de Poher, Knight Marshal and Joint Governor of Ireland in 1179. The 6th Bn. was in 1672 created Earl of Tyrone and Visc. Decies, but these titles expired with the 3rd Earl. The daughter of this last, however, who was allowed the Barony of La Poer in fee, married Sir Marcus Beresford, 4th Bt., and to him were accorded the Viscty. of Tyrone and subsequently a renewal of the lapsed Earldom. The 2nd Earl was elevated to the Marquessate and created Bn. Tyrone of Gt. Britain, whilst on the death of his mother he inherited also the Barony of La Poer—the only Irish Peerage besides the Massereene Viscty. which is open to female succession. The 4th Marq. was in holy orders, whilst the 5th, who had represented Co. Waterford in Parliament, became its Lieutenant, a K.P., and Master of the Buckhounds.

CREATIONS. U.K. : Visc. Wellington and Bn. Douro, 1809 ; Marq. and Earl of Wellington, 1812 ; D. of Wellington and Marq. Douro, 1814. Irel. : Bn. Mornington, 1746 ; E. of Mornington and Visc. Wellesley, 1760. Nethds. : Prince of Waterloo, 1815. Spain : Duque de Ciudad Rodrigo and a Grandee of the 1st Class, 1812. Portugal : Conde da Vimieira (or -eiro, both correct forms), 1811 ; Duque da Vitoria (commonly spelt Vittoria, but the town is in Spain, where tt is never used), and Marquez de Torres Vedras, 1812.—Of the deeds of the great Duke of Wellington, the "hero of a hundred fights," this book is called upon to chronicle but the slightest summary. He sat in the Irish Parliament in 1790 as Member for Trim, but from 1794 to 1815 his career was all but wholly a military one. His first great battle was that of Assaye (1803) in the Nizam's dominions ; and after it came the long series of the Peninsular War—Vimieira, Talavera, Busaco, Fuentes d' Onoro, Ciudad Rodrigo, Badajoz, Salamanca, and Vitoria (these in 1808-13), followed by Orthez and Toulouse in France (1814), and then Quatre Bras and Waterloo. From Jan. 1828 for not quite three years he was Prime Minister. He died in 1852 at the age of 83. All the above honours of U.K. and the Continent were accorded to him personally. His grandfather the 1st Bn. Mornington (Irish Peerage) was Richd. Colley, who assumed a cousin's surname of Wesley (the celebrated Rev. Jno. Wesley was a relative) and afterwards changed it to Wellesley. The 2nd Bn. obtained the Earldom of Mornington, and his 3rd son was the 1st Duke. The two elder sons were respectively Richard, 2nd Earl, created Marq. Wellesley in Ireland, who was Governor-General of India, but died childless ; and William, 3rd Earl, created Bn. Maryborough—both titles passing to his son and grandson, but that of Maryborough lapsing on the death of this last in 1863, when the Mornington titles and the Wellesley Viscty. went to the 2nd Duke.

Wemyss, 1821.—Sir Jno. Wemyss, 1st Bt. (a title which expired with his son), was created 1st Ld. and Earl: he sided with the Parliament in the Civil War. The 2nd Peer obtained a new patent giving remainder of his Earldom and Lordship to his daughter and her heirs male. The heir of the Earl 5th in line was attainted for taking part in the rebellion of 1745, so that the titles remained dormant from his father's death till his own (1756-87), when, as he left no issue, his brother succeeded as untouched by the attainder. ('Burke,' however, singularly calls the attainted successor "6th Earl de jure," thus making the present Peer the 10th; 'Debrett' on the other hand, omitting the Ctss. in the numbering, styles him only the 8th.) The latter's grandson, the 7th Earl, inherited also the Earldom of March, first bestowed on a son of the 1st Duke of Queensberry, the Hon. W. Douglas, whose sister had married the 4th Earl of Wemyss. The 7th Earl was likewise the recipient of the U.K. Barony. Surname conventionally Charteris only; this had been assumed in 1771 by the 6th Earl; Douglas appears to have been added by the 7th on his accession to the March Earldom with the landed estate of his great great grandmother Lady Anne Douglas.

Creations. Irel.: Bn. of Delvin, abt. 1180 by tenure, 1389 by writ (Cokayne); E. of Westmeath, 1622.—The name of Gilbert de Nugent is given as that of the 1st Bn. by tenure. The title then passed by marriage to the Fitz-John family, but came back by the same process to Sir Wm. Nugent, whose father, the 8th Bn., was apparently the first to be summoned by writ. 'Burke,' however, cites the 12th Bn. as the first to receive the writ, the year 1486 being given as the date of the earliest, to which three other writs followed, and in 1498 he was fined forty shillings for non-attendance. In concert with the Earl of Kildare he was engaged in hostilities with the native Chiefs, by one of whom, O'Connor, he was treacherously made a prisoner and kept long in confinement. The 14th Bn. was commissioned by the Crown to extirpate the O'Mores, but was sent prisoner to London in 1580 on suspicion of holding treasonable correspondence with the Leinster rebels; having, however, established his innocence, he returned to Ireland, and Elizabeth ordered him several grants of forfeited land, which the troubles of the country prevented his receiving. His son, the 15th Bn., was raised to the Earldom. The 4th Earl was outlawed for having fought for James II., but the sentence was afterwards remitted. The 6th Earl conformed to the Protestant Church. The 8th was created a Marquess, but he left no son and that title lapsed, whilst the Earldom passed to a cousin, an ancestor of whom had been created Lord Riverston by James II. after abdication—the title consequently being never admitted, though it continued to be used till its holder became 9th Earl. The 10th served on the Continent.

The 2nd Earl (né Grosvenor) resumed the family name of Egerton. The 3rd Peer, having been M.P. for Weymouth and Bath, was before succession created Bn. Howard of Ballina Pk., Wicklow, and widow of Samuel Garnett, Esq. Seats, Amport St. Mary's, Andover, Hants.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. St. John of Basing, 1539; E. of Wiltshire, 1550; M. of Winchester, 1551.—Sir Wm. Paulet, K.G., was the recipient of these three creations. He was a confidant of Henry VIII. and held the office of Lord Treasurer of England through the changes of the three succeeding reigns; and on being once asked how he had contrived to stand through them all, he replied, "By being a willow, not an oak." The 3rd Peer was given to literature and writing poetry. The 5th sacrificed all his property through supporting Charles I. in the Civil War, his mansion at Basing being burnt to the ground after a siege. The 6th Marq. was made Duke of Bolton, and that title ran through six in the line. The 3rd Duke (8th Marq.) involved himself with the actress Lavinia Bestwick, and had three sons by her previously to the death of his 1st wife. As he left no other issue, though he eventually married the actress, his titles went to his brother; but on the death of the 6th Duke, who was an Admiral of the White, the Dukedom expired and the Marquessate passed to a descendant of the 5th holder of that title. The 13th Marq. in his closing years assumed the additional name of Burroughs, but this appears to have been for himself alone. His grandson the 15th Peer was a Major in the Coldstream Guards and was killed at Magersfontein in December 1899.

The 4th Peer was engaged in the French wars of Richard II. and Henry IV. On the death of the 11th Bn. in 1625 the title fell into abeyance, and so continued till 1815. The 5th Bn. had married the Bnss. St. Maur, 7th in line; but the abeyance affected both titles, and in the latter case has never been terminated. A second, but brief, abeyance of the Zouche line occurred in 1825, and the daughter in whose favour it was determined altered her title to De la Zouche. Her son the 14th Bn. did not continue this form, and the title stands on the Roll as "Zouche of Haryngworth."

The Editor will be glad of information which may enable him to insert the names of Bishops fo any other denominations resident in the United Kingdom: such Prelates having, in a professedly Protestant country, at least as good a claim to notice as the Roman Catholics above. The one given last year, the Rt. Rev. A. S. RICHARDSON, Bp. of the Reformed Church of England, the Editor has, after repeated efforts, failed to discover. The Moravians have their Bishops (Headquarters, Fetter Lane, E.C.); and doubtless WILLIAM BOOTH, General of the Salvation Army, holds a position within his own body as influential as that of any Archbishop.

The preceding list is compiled and edited by a distinguished Ecclesiastic of the R.C. Church.

INDEX TO THE SEATS AND RESIDENCES

CITED IN THE FOREGOING DIRECTORY.

 The design of this Index, the comprehensiveness of which we have been compelled somewhat to limit, is to furnish a ready means of reference to the occupant of every address in the Directory within the British Isles, provided it bears a distinctive name, is non-official in character, and held by a person not lower in rank than a Knight or the son or daughter of a Baron. The only exceptions are those of unsubstantiated claimants, or of ladies whose former claims to titles have been forfeited by re-marriage. Many residences will doubtless be merely villas or even houses in a terrace distinguished by some special name; but no line of exclusion can possibly be drawn, nor is it called for in a list which is not restricted to "seats." On the other hand there are almost certainly a large number of villages and hamlets cited in the form of residences; but this also is unavoidable (except by the putting of questions which would often be thought offensive) in view of the large number of actual seats which are designated by apparently local names without the addition of the word "House," "Hall," or "Park." Yet again, there are a large number of residences which are appended to more than one name in the DIRECTORY; and in these cases, if relationship cannot be traced, it is presumable that one name represents the occupant and the other the owner. We have done our best to make the distinction clear, or at any rate to supply the name of the occupant.

The greatest pains have been taken to supply to every address the far too frequently omitted post-town, a long dash being substituted when the Editor's efforts for its discovery have been without avail. More complete addresses will very often be found under the names in the Directory, but they are never consciously so abridged as to entail extra labour on the Post Office. It should be noted in the case of such abridgments as "Glouc.," "Worc.," "Lanc.," that they invariably denote the county and not the county town—no town whatever being contracted if it can possibly be confused with the county. "Durham" without "Co." means the city of Durham, and similarly in numerous Irish examples.

At the cost of much additional space, every address is now given in the style prescribed under our "Modes of Addressing Persons of Title;" many contractions, however, will naturally be expanded in copying. The name and style of the wife is appended in those numerous instances in which the husband does not hold a title which would on his own account have given him a place in this work.

The rule observed in alphabetising has been to treat the entire name of the residence as one word (the parenthesised "The," coming out of its true position, can only be ignored).

READY

A CHEAP, POPULAR EDITION OF

THE DAILY ROUND.

Demy 32mo. 424 pages, cloth, flushed edges.

PRICE ONE SHILLING.

Hitherto the cheapest edition of this well-known work has been issued at Three Shillings, a price which, it has been stated, is prohibitive to many who would otherwise wish to possess a copy.

In response, therefore, to the frequently expressed suggestion of many of the Clergy, both at home and abroad, and with a view to render the work more extensively useful among a wider circle of readers, more particularly the poorer members of the Church, it has been decided to issue a cheap popular edition at so reasonable a price as will bring it within the means of everyone to obtain it.

THE DAILY ROUND. Meditation, Prayer and Praise, Adapted to the Courses of the Christian Year. By the late THOMAS BENSON POLLOCK, M.A., Vicar of St. Albans, Birmingham. PURCHASES.—The Society purchases Reversions and Remainders, whether absolute or contingent; Life Interests, whether in possession or deferred; and generally all Interests (in approved property) that depend upon the duration of human life.

LOANS.—The Society also grants Loans on the security of such interests, either on Ordinary Mortgage or by way of Reversionary Charge. The latter mode meets the convenience of borrowers who do not wish to make any payment for either principal or interest until their Reversionary Property falls into possession. The amount to which the Society will then be entitled is fixed at the outset, and does not depend on the time elapsing between the grant of the Loan and its repayment. The option of redeeming the Charge during the first three or five years can usually be combined with this form of Loan.

Forms of proposal and full information can be obtained at the Society's Offices.
